Hydrologic Engineering Requirements for Flood Damage Reduction Studies, 1995 Hydrological Modelling and Assessment in Arid Region Using Remote Sensing and GIS: A Case Study in Southeast Sinai, Egypt Ali Hagra, 2025-10-11

The primary hydrologic parameters in assessing water resources are rainfall and runoff which also play a major role in controlling groundwater recharge. In light of the changing global climate, the socioeconomics and lifestyle modalities within the research region heavily depend on the hydrologic modelling of the catchments. Therefore, to simulate and estimate water availability, hydrologic models with reliable data must be used. In addition, reliable rainfall-based storm runoff forecasts are also essential for flood hazard mitigation and adaptation. Floods rank among the catchment's most severe natural disasters, causing substantial property damage, fatalities, and economic risk. Furthermore, reliable modelling is an effective way to mitigate and prevent these flood threats.
