The Crucible

Arthur Miller,2003-03-25 A haunting examination of groupthink and mass hysteria in a rural community The place is Salem Massachusetts in 1692 an enclave of rigid piety huddled on the edge of a wilderness Its inhabitants believe unquestioningly in their own sanctity But in Arthur Miller's edgy masterpiece that very belief will have poisonous consequences when a vengeful teenager accuses a rival of witchcraft and then when those accusations multiply to consume the entire village First produced in 1953 at a time when America was convulsed by a new epidemic of witch hunting The Crucible brilliantly explores the threshold between individual guilt and mass hysteria personal spite and collective evil It is a play that is not only relentlessly suspenseful and vastly moving but that compels readers to fathom their hearts and consciences in ways that only the greatest theater ever can A drama of emotional power and impact New York Post

The Minister as Teacher William Adams Brown, 1920 Report of the Minister of Mines; Being an Account of Mining Operations for Gold, Coal, Etc. (varies Slightly) British Columbia. Department of Mines, 1896 Nobility Lost

Christian Ayne Crouch, 2014-03-04 Nobility Lost is a cultural history of the Seven Years War in French claimed North America focused on the meanings of wartime violence and the profound impact of the encounter between Canadian Indian and French cultures of war and diplomacy This narrative highlights the relationship between events in France and events in America and frames them dialogically as the actors themselves experienced them at the time Christian Ayne Crouch examines how codes of martial valor were enacted and challenged by metropolitan and colonial leaders to consider how those acts affected French Indian relations the culture of French military elites ideas of male valor and the trajectory of French colonial enterprises afterwards in the second half of the eighteenth century At Versailles the conflict pertaining to the means used to prosecute war in New France would result in political and cultural crises over what constituted legitimate violence in defense of the empire These arguments helped frame the basis for the formal French cession of its North American claims to the British in the Treaty of Paris of 1763 While the French regular army the troupes de terre a late arriving contingent to the conflict framed warfare within highly ritualized contexts and performances of royal and personal honor that had evolved in Europe the troupes de la marine colonial forces with economic stakes in New France fought to maintain colonial land and trade A demographic disadvantage forced marines and Canadian colonial officials to accommodate Indian practices of gift giving and feasting in preparation for battle adopt irregular methods of violence and often work in cooperation with allied indigenous peoples such as Abenakis Hurons and Nipissings Drawing on Native and European perspectives Crouch shows the period of the Seven Years War to be one of decisive transformation for all American communities Ultimately the augmented strife between metropolitan and colonial elites over the aims and means of warfare Crouch argues raised questions about the meaning and cost of empire not just in North America but in the French Atlantic and later resonated in France's approach to empire building around the globe The French government examined the cause of the colonial debacle in New France at a corruption trial in Paris known as l'affaire du Canada and assigned blame Only colonial officers were tried and even those who were acquitted found themselves shut out of participation in new imperial projects in the Caribbean and in the Pacific By tracing the subsequent global circumnavigation of Louis Antoine de Bougainville a decorated veteran of the French regulars 1766-1769 Crouch shows how the lessons of New France were assimilated and new colonial enterprises were constructed based on a heightened jealousy of French honor and a corresponding fear of its loss in engagement with Native enemies and allies      Annual Report of the Minister of Mines ...
