The No-Nonsense Guide to Foster Parenting Barbara Hughes, 2010-04 Over two thirds of the children placed in foster care come into the system carrying the negative baggage of their past. Broken families, substance abuse and physical, sexual and emotional abuse also create a dilemma for foster parents. How do you correct problem behavior while giving your foster children the extra reassurance they need? How do you show them that your home is a safe, respectful place? The No Nonsense Guide to Foster Parenting is full of common sense, compassionate solutions to the unique problems that arise in foster homes. Barbara Hughes is a successful foster parent of twenty plus years and has experienced literally thousands of different situations, behaviors, problems, concerns and dilemmas. In this book you will see the best and worst situations in foster care. You will also learn how to deal with common problems and fears and acquire the skills for doing so in a peaceable and respectful manner. This simple common sense approach guarantees better outcomes, enabling your foster children to be calmer and more focused so that they may grow and thrive.

Perceptions of Foster Parenting by Successful Foster Parents Mary Beth Blumenstock, Ronald R. Crayton, Elaine Newman Domnitz, Michael S. Downing, Shoshanah Gale, Elisabeth Whitman Hahn, Shirley Tarko Halpern, Valerie A.

Martin, Elizabeth Solomon, 1978 Fostering Success Kate Wilson, 2004 A key aspect of the public debate about the children's services has been a focus on improved outcomes for looked after children, including foster children. This scoping review looks at the ways in which foster care impacts on outcomes for children and young people, highlighting the importance of supporting users of foster care services to define the outcomes they want in their lives and to achieve them. A Study of Predictors of Success in Foster Care Patricia W. Caultley, 1970 Reaching Out to Find Common Ground

Mary Pagan, 2016 Foster homes are limited and there are not enough placements to meet the needs of local children and youth in the foster care system. Over the last few years, as foster homes have dwindled, more and more foster children have had to be placed in foster homes out of county, away from their communities, their schools and their families. There is a fundamental need for recruitment and retention of foster care placements. Other counties in California have been successful in implementing foster parent recruitment that has generated enough foster homes to meet their needs for placements. One such program has been able to place more of their foster children in the county and is placing far less of their foster children in homes outside of the county. This project will explore successful lessons learned in the recruitment and retention of foster families through the interview of the creator and director of the program. Foster Care 101 Insights and Tips for New and Existing Foster Parents - Navigating Your Journey with Confidence Orr, 2024-04-04 Embark on a transformative journey with Foster Care 101 Insights and Tips for New and Existing Foster Parents.
