Success With Languages Linda Murphy:

Success with Languages Stella Hurd, Linda Murphy, 2005-10-09 Success with Languages is designed to help all students develop the skills they need to become an effective language learner and to make the most of language study. Written by experienced language teachers at the Open University, this book offers undergraduates and postgraduates crucial and practical advice on important areas such as choosing a language and study programme, setting personal goals for language learning and monitoring progress using ICT to support language learning. Each of the ten chapters features a number of exercises in order to help students assess the ways they learn and consider where improvements can be made, making the most of the media available and how to use resources effectively. Social Dimensions of Autonomy in Language Learning G. Murray, 2014-05-06 This book examines how autonomy in language learning is fostered and constrained in social settings through interaction with others and various contextual features. With theoretical grounding, the authors discuss the implications for practice in classrooms, distance education, self-access centres, as well as virtual and social learning spaces.

Developing Online Language Teaching Regine Hampel, 2015-03-24 When moving towards teaching online, teachers are confronted every day with issues such as online moderation, establishing social presence, online transitioning, learners to online environments, giving feedback online. This book supports language teaching professionals and researchers who are keen to engage in online teaching and learning. Advising in Language Learning Jo Mynard, Luke Carson, 2014-01-14 Advising in Language Learning ALL brings together examples of advising practice and research from various international contexts in a fast-developing field. A theoretical model based on constructivism and sociocultural theory, the Dialogue Tools and Context Model, is proposed and supported throughout the book, as each of the contributions focuses on one or more areas of the model. In this volume, the editors set out the general aims and understandings of the field, illustrating the innovative manner in which advisors around the world are working with learners and researching the practice of ALL. Distance Education and Languages Börje Holmberg, Monica Shelley, Cynthia J. White, 2005-03-23 This edited book is the first collection of studies dealing specifically with the teaching of languages at a distance. It contains contributions from language teaching professionals working all over the world in different contexts and at different stages of development and covers a variety of languages. Based on practical experience and research, it includes work on learner autonomy and support theories of distance language learning, the development of intercultural competence, methodology and course design, different learning environments and how to make best use of them, and language teacher education. These contributions have been collected together in one volume to encourage the establishment of collaborative links between practitioners in different institutions.

Language Learning Strategies in Independent Settings Stella Hurd, Tim Lewis, 2008-10-03 Language learning strategies have been a topic of research for roughly three decades Broadly speaking that research has focused on classroom tuition predominantly at secondary level Increasingly however language learning occurs in independent settings whether at distance on Institution Wide Language Programmes IWLPs or in virtual environments Success in independent language learning is achieved by autonomous individuals with a capacity for self regulation Yet we still know relatively little about the specific means they use to learn effectively whether in terms of the affective strategies they employ to sustain motivation the metacognitive strategies required for planning monitoring and evaluating their learning or the specific cognitive strategies applied to difficult learning tasks These are all discussed and evaluated in Language Learning Strategies in Independent Settings American Book Publishing Record ,2003
