An Exegesis on 'Better Dead Than Never' Laurent Boulanger, 2015-08-14 This exegesis reflects and explores the literary techniques and the author's journey in the creation of the novel Better Dead Than Never The novel's frame is built around the tradition of the hard boiled genre of crime fiction popular in the USA in the 1930s and 1940s Whilst the novel keeps the tradition of having a Private Investigator as the protagonist the setting is Melbourne Australia and the timeframe is the mid 2000s In addition the protagonist is an attached woman in her thirties rather than the traditional single male protagonist The novel through the protagonist's journey explores issues of class racism sexism homophobia police corruption and the Australian legal system The exegesis explains how the novel was created both in terms of fiction technique and the author's self reflection on his choice of genre setting protagonist dialogue and structure The methodology includes placing the novel in comparative evaluation with other works from Cornwell Grafton Evanovich and works from the hard boiled genre It also examines feminism issues in terms of the protagonist's place in a male dominated police environment and discusses the author's choice of using a female protagonist whilst being a male author      The Tablet ,1887      The Louisiana Historical Quarterly John Wymond, Henry Plauché Dart, 1930      Partisan Journalism Jim A. Kuypers, 2013-11-21 In Partisan Journalism A History of Media Bias in the United States Jim A Kuypers guides readers on a journey through American journalistic history focusing on the warring notions of objectivity and partisanship Kuypers shows how the American journalistic tradition grew from partisan roots and with only a brief period of objectivity in between has returned to those roots today The book begins with an overview of newspapers during Colonial times explaining how those papers openly operated in an expressly partisan way he then moves through the Jacksonian era's expansion of both the press and its partisan nature After detailing the role of the press during the War Between the States Kuypers demonstrates that it was the telegraph not professional sentiment that kicked off the movement toward objective news reporting The conflict between partisanship and professionalization objectivity continued through the muckraking years and through World War II with newspapers in the 1950s often being objective in their reporting even as their editorials leaned to the right This changed rapidly in the 1960s when newspaper editorials shifted from right to left and progressive advocacy began to slowly erode objective content Kuypers follows this trend through the early 1980s and then turns his attention to demonstrating how new communication technologies have changed the very nature of news writing and delivery In the final chapters covering the Bush and Obama presidencies he traces the growth of the progressive and partisan nature of the mainstream news while at the same time explores the rapid rise of alternative news sources some partisan some objective that are challenging the dominance of the mainstream press This book steps beyond a simple charge counter charge of political bias in the news in that it offers an argument that the press in America except for a brief period was essentially partisan from its inception and has returned with a vengeance to its original roots The final argument presented in the book is that this new development may actually be healthy for American Democracy      The Quebec Law Digest Charles Henry Stephens, 1891      The Christian Union ,1888      Arrêts de la Cour Suprême, de la Cour de Vice-amirauté, Et de la Cour Des Faillites de L'ile Maurice ,1884      Index of the Decisions of the Supreme Court of Mauritius Mauritius.
