in Talking Drama ask what the relation is between drama and its critics In so far as we conceive of drama and theatre as arising from and providing some sense of social ritual and comment drama is itself a critical genre showing up the foibles and problems of human existence as well as the general hubris and errors of society Plays both constitute criticism of society of ideas of other plays and deploy such self critical gambits as plays within plays characters who watch other characters characters feigning roles and personalities and even the overt inclusion of characters who are critics Plays thus comment both on themselves and on the art of theatre generally At the same time drama implies other kinds of critics in the guise of the audience reviewers and those who might participate in its ideas Just as plays produce the seeds of their own critique so they also spur critique of their aesthetics the artistry of their performance and the ideas and conflicts they illustrate Critics who review play performances are as much an intrinsic part of theatrical events as the audience and the plays themselves
