POLITICS CURRENT EVENTS Another End of the World is Possible Pablo Servigne, Raphaël Stevens, Gauthier Chapelle, 2020-11-18 The critical situation in which our planet finds itself is no longer in doubt Some things are already collapsing while others are beginning to do so increasing the possibility of a global catastrophe that would mean the end of the world as we know it As individuals we are faced with a daily deluge of bad news about the worsening situation preparing ourselves to live with years of deep uncertainty about the future of the planet and the species that inhabit it including our own How can we cope How can we project ourselves beyond the present think bigger and find ways not just to survive the collapse but to live it In this book the sequel to How Everything Can Collapse the authors show that a change of course necessarily requires an inner journey and a radical rethinking of our vision of the world Together these might enable us to remain standing during the coming storm to develop a new awareness of ourselves and of the world and to imagine new ways of living in it Perhaps then it will be possible to regenerate life from the ruins creating new alliances in differing directions with ourselves and our inner nature between humans with other living beings and with the earth on which we dwell intentional formation within contemporary institutions of theological education whose riches may be mined in a disciplined spiritual stewardship and grounded in radically covenantal companionship Just like artisanal bread blends the classical methods of bread baking with modern conveniences so an artisanal theology relies upon the personal and communal touch of human relationship amidst the contemporary forms of programmatic theological education An artisanal theology offers an articulate and traditionally rooted faith perspective grounded in covenantal companionships sustained in contexts of church tradition and most importantly practice Ultimately an artisanal theology witnesses beyond the anticipated political divides to the Triune God among us known in a theologically expressive delight able to companion the suffering of self and others
