Voice Disorders, Fourth Edition Christine Sapienza, Bari Hoffman, 2020-12-23 With Voice Disorders Fourth Edition authors Christine Sapienza PhD and Bari Hoffman PhD have created a comprehensive package for learning. The authors uniquely blend voice science with voice treatments ranging from traditional interventions to recent advances in cellular therapies, muscle strength training and treatments for special populations. The text has been extensively updated with clinical evidence based information and comes with videos, audio files and case studies. This fourth edition offers a comprehensive combined study of the respiratory, laryngeal and neurological subsystems for voice. Therapy approaches are categorized in terms of type such as physiologic, combined, modality and hygienic. The new edition expands the approaches to voice therapy and better defines clinical decision making with information about humanistic communication strategies, adherence and the multitude of variables that influence patient outcomes. New to the Fourth Edition: The anatomical illustrations are now in color. Updated throughout to reflect the current state of research in the evaluation and treatment of voice and upper airway disorders. Many new references depicting evidence based outcomes. Updated clinical guidelines and position statements. A thoroughly revised chapter on voice therapy. Extensive content added on gender affirmation, the role of the SLP along with various evaluation and therapy approaches. More laryngeal images and endoscopic examinations. Expanded coverage of contemporary phonosurgery approaches and the role of the SLP pre and post surgery. Extensively expanded material on head and neck cancer and alaryngeal communication. Disclaimer: Please note that ancillary content such as documents, audio and video etc. may not be included as published in the original print version of this book.

Book reviews    The Handbook of Educational Theories Beverly J. Irby, Genevieve Brown, Rafael Lara-Aiecio, Shirley Jackson, 2013-01-17 This Handbook consolidates influential educational theories into a single volume making it an accessible reference for researchers and practitioners. It covers traditional and emerging theories with practical examples and an appendix of associated instruments.

Resources in Education, 1994-07    The Oxford Handbook of Spontaneous Thought Kieran C.R. Fox, Kalina Christoff, 2018-05-16 Where do spontaneous thoughts come from? It may be surprising that the seemingly straightforward answers from the mind or from the brain are in fact an incredibly recent understanding of the origins of spontaneous thought. For nearly all of human history our thoughts, especially the most sudden, insightful and important, were almost universally ascribed to divine or other external sources. Only in the past few centuries have we truly taken responsibility for their own mental content and finally localized thought to the central nervous system, laying the foundations for a protoscience of spontaneous thought. But enormous questions still loom: what exactly is spontaneous thought? Why does our brain engage in spontaneous forms of thinking and when is this most likely to occur? And perhaps the question most interesting and accessible from a scientific perspective: how does the brain generate and evaluate its own spontaneous creations Spontaneous thought includes our daytime fantasies and mind wandering the flashes of insight and inspiration familiar to the artist scientist and inventor and the nighttime visions we call dreams This Handbook brings together views from neuroscience psychology philosophy phenomenology history education contemplative traditions and clinical practice to begin to address the ubiquitous but poorly understood mental phenomena that we collectively call spontaneous thought In studying such an abstruse and seemingly impractical subject we should remember that our capacity for spontaneity originality and creativity defines us as a species and as individuals Spontaneous forms of thought enable us to transcend not only the here and now of perceptual experience but also the bonds of our deliberately controlled and goal directed cognition they allow the space for us to be other than who we are and for our minds to think beyond the limitations of our current viewpoints and beliefs

Privatising the military use of force Frank Heemann,2009-03-19 Master s Thesis from the year 2006 in the subject Law Comparative Legal Systems Comparative Law grade 80 University of Cape

Town Universit t Kapstadt language English abstract This paper will explore responsibilities that might arise under international law from the privatisation of the military use of force The aim of the paper is threefold first it explores which responsibilities states and international organizations incur under international law if they use the services of Private Military Companies PMCs ie if they privatise the use of military force Second the paper will use this survey of responsibilities to address the question whether there are at present substantial gaps in international law that need to be filled in order to deal adequately with the outsourcing of military force Third the paper will then suggest how to deal with such gaps The paper will be structured as follows Part II introduces the private military industry The focus here will be on a categorization of the industry and a description of its impact on the common understanding of warfare which assumes a state monopoly on the use of force An understanding of the different categories within the industry and the industry s impact on warfare is essential for addressing the legal question of whether PMCs are sufficiently covered by the existing international laws Part III deals with the responsibility of states arising from privatising the use of force this part will first provide a brief categorization of states that might incur responsibility and then introduce as a point of departure and mental guideline the accepted rule of state responsibility whereby a state incurs responsibility for the commission of international wrongful acts For the evaluation of a state responsibilities part III will then proceed to introduce states international obligations that are most likely to be violated in connection with the privatisation of the use of force
