Personality and Psychopathology, Child Psychopathology Robert T. Ammerman, 2006-01-03 Child Psychopathology presents an overview of the classification and diagnosis, genetic, sociological, and neuropsychiatric influences, and research and behavioral considerations of psychopathology in infants and children. Child Ross W. Greene, 2005 Children who suffer intense temper outbursts, extreme noncompliance, and verbal and physical aggression are not seen as wilfully disobedient by Dr. Greene. Rather, he provides a compassionate, practical approach for parents. The Explosive Child Updated and Revised Edition Ross W. Greene, 2021-08-17 A groundbreaking approach to understanding and parenting children who frequently exhibit severe fits of temper and other intractable behaviors from a distinguished clinician and pioneer in this field. What's an explosive child? A child who responds to routine problems with extreme frustration, crying, screaming, swearing, kicking, hitting, biting, spitting, destroying property, and worse. A child whose frequent severe outbursts leave his or her parents feeling frustrated, scared, worried, and desperate for help. Most of these parents have tried everything: reasoning, explaining, punishing, sticker charts, therapy, medication, but to no avail. They can't figure out why their child acts the way he or she does; they wonder why the strategies that work for other kids don't work for theirs, and they don't know what to do instead. Dr. Ross Greene, a distinguished clinician and pioneer in the treatment of kids with social, emotional, and behavioral challenges, has worked with thousands of explosive children, and he has good news: these kids aren't attention seeking, manipulative or unmotivated and their parents aren't passive permissive pushovers. Rather explosive kids are lacking some crucial skills in the domains of flexibility, adaptability, frustration tolerance and problem solving and they require a different approach to parenting. Throughout this compassionate, insightful and practical book, Dr. Greene provides a new conceptual framework for understanding their difficulties based on research in the neurosciences. He explains why traditional parenting and treatment often don't work with these children and he describes what to do instead. Instead of relying on rewarding and punishing, Dr. Greene's Collaborative Problem Solving model promotes working with explosive children to solve the problems that precipitate explosive episodes and teaching these kids the skills they lack.

The Explosive Child Ross W. Greene, PhD, 2009-10-13 The groundbreaking New Approach for Understanding and Parenting Easily Frustrated Chronically Inflexible Children. The Explosive Child by Ross W. Greene, PhD, has been updated and revised to include the latest research. Dr. Greene is Associate Clinical Professor in the Department of Psychiatry, Harvard Medical School and the originator of the Collaborative Problem Solving approach to the treatment and study of children with social, emotional and behavioral challenges. With The Explosive Child, he offers an indispensable helping hand to parents who may feel overwhelmed by having to deal with children whose reactions to everyday stimuli may be far more extreme than normal.

Treating Traumatic Stress in Children and Adolescents Margaret E. Blaustein, Kristine M. Kinniburgh, 2019 Packed with practical clinical tools, this guide explains how to plan and organize individualized interventions that promote resilience, strengthen child-caregiver relationships and restore developmental competencies derailed by chronic multiple stressors. Includes more than 45 reproducibles.
