BEFORE A FIRST RIDE

Make sure the bicycle fits you properly.

Your dealer should fit you with the proper size of bicycle. There should be at least one inch (25mm) clearance between the top tube and the rider when standing over the bicycle (Figure 1). For mountain bikes, two to three inches (50-75mm) clearance is recommended.

1" (25mm) for most bicycles.
2-3" (50-75mm) for mountain bicycles.

Some models have maximum weight limits:

Tricycle 80lbs. (36kg.)

The seat and handlebars may be adjusted to offer the best comfort and performance. Before making these adjustments, refer to Chapter 2.

Know how the bicycle performs.

The features of your bicycle, if misused, may cause you to lose control of the bike. Before riding fast or in more difficult conditions, learn the function and performance of all the mechanisms of your bike by riding at slower speeds in a flat, empty parking lot.

If you want your bicycle to perform differently, or if you have special needs that require different parts for the safe operation of your bike, consult your dealer. As an example, the stopping power on bikes varies according to the intended use of the bike. If you would like your bike to have more, or less, stopping power, consult your dealer about brake adjustments or other brake options for your bicycle.

WARNING

Mis-use of the braking system, including over-use of the front brake, can cause you to lose control and fall. Avoid improper braking by understanding and practicing proper application of your brakes as explained in this manual.
