Part II examines employment in academic settings, chiefly research academia, practice oriented academia, and teaching focused academia. Part III discusses opportunities for clinical forensic psychology practice in both the public sector and in private practice settings. Part IV considers career opportunities for policy interested forensic psychologists, including in government agencies and policy focused non profit organizations. Finally, Part V gives readers tips on how to pick the best career home base for themselves, considers supplemental opportunities that forensic psychologists can pursue if their home base does not scratch all their professional itches, and provides guidance on how to put one's best foot forward as a forensic psychologist and be a worthy representative of the field.
