SWIFTWATER RESCUE

The Concept

Ideally all Rescue personnel should have appropriate training in Swiftwater Rescue, First Aid and Patient handling and packaging relative to their involvement. Ultimately they should not be allocated to any task unless they are appropriately trained in that discipline. In due course it should be an aim to be able to say, you can not participate at certain levels until you have undertaken our training or an acceptable level of external training.

It is necessary for all personnel to have a basic understanding of all aspects of the rescue and recovery activities. Not only to make them more versatile but also so that they can ensure that the integration of various functions occur without confusion or conflict.

Swiftwater Rescue training for most will not mean Rescue Swimming but shore based support for the Rescue Swimmers. Shore based rescue personnel must be aware of the capabilities of the rescue swimmers, the strategies they can and will employ and what support they will need or expect from the shore based personnel.

Team Leaders are expected to maintain a minimum level of both their knowledge and skills in all the disciplines that swiftwater rescue encompasses. They are also expected to contribute to and participate in the passing on of that knowledge and skill through participation in the training programs as instructors.

Team structures:

Each team will comprise a minimum ten personnel as follows:

Team leader, Deputy Team leader, welfare officer, two swiftwater rescue swimmers and five shore based swiftwater rescue technicians.

At least two shore based members, and ultimately all personnel should be qualified in both First Aid and to Swiftwater rescue technician standards for shore based rescue.
