Systems We Have Loved Conceptual Art Affect And The Antihumanist Turn:

Systems We Have Loved Eve Meltzer, 2013-07-02 By the early 1960s theorists like Lvi Strauss, Lacan, Foucault, and Barthes had created a world ruled by signifying structures and pictured through the grids of language, information, and systems. Artists soon followed, turning to language and its related forms to devise a new conceptual approach to art making. Examining the ways in which artists shared the structuralist devotion to systems of many sorts, Systems We Have Loved shows that even as structuralism encouraged the advent of conceptual art, it also raised intractable problems that artists were forced to confront. Considering such notable art figures as Mary Kelly, Robert Morris, Robert Smithson, and Rosalind Krauss, Eve Meltzer argues that during this period the visual arts depicted and tested the far-reaching claims about subjectivity espoused by theorists. She offers a new way of framing two of the twentieth century's most transformative movements, one artistic, one expansively theoretical, and she reveals their shared dream or nightmare of the world as a system of signs. By endorsing this view, Meltzer proposes that these artists drew attention to the fictions and limitations of this dream, even as they risked getting caught in the very systems they had adopted. The first book to describe art's embrace of the world as an information system, Systems We Have Loved breathes new life into the study of conceptual art.

The Politics of Collecting Eunsong Kim, 2024-06-24 In The Politics of Collecting, Eunsong Kim traces how racial capitalism and colonialism situated the rise of US museum collections and conceptual art forms. Investigating historical, legal, and property claims, she argues that regimes of expropriation rather than merit or good taste are responsible for popular ideas of formal innovation and artistic genius. In doing so, she details how Marcel Duchamp's canonization has more to do with his patron's donations to museums than it does the quality of Duchamp's work, and uncovers the racialized and financialized logic behind the Archive of New Poetry's collecting practices. Ranging from the conception of philanthropy devised by the rubber barons of the late nineteenth century to ongoing digitization projects, Kim provides a new history of contemporary art that accounts for the complicated entanglement of race, capital, and labor behind storied art institutions and artists. Drawing on history, theory, and economics, Kim challenges received notions of artistic success and talent, and calls for a new vision of art beyond the cultural institution.

Nervous Systems Johanna Gosse, Timothy Stott, 2021-11-02 The contributors to Nervous Systems reassess contemporary artists and critics' engagement with social, political, biological, and other systems as a set of complex and relational parts, an approach commonly known as systems thinking. Demonstrating the continuing relevance of systems aesthetics within contemporary art, the contributors highlight the ways that artists adopt systems thinking to address political, social, and ecological anxieties. They cover a wide range of artists and topics from the performances of the Argentinian collective the Rosario Group and the grid drawings of Charles Gaines to the video art of Singaporean artist Charles Lim and the mapping of global logistics infrastructures by contemporary artists like Hito Steyerl and Christoph Bächler. Together, the essays offer an expanded understanding of systems aesthetics in ways that affirm its importance beyond technological applications detached from cultural contexts Contributors Cristina Albu Amanda Boetzkes Brianne Cohen Kris Cohen Jaimey Hamilton Faris Christine Filippone Johanna Gosse Francis Halsall Judith Rodenbeck Dawna Schuld Luke Skrebowski Timothy Stott John Tyson

It's Not Personal Susan Best, 2021-06-17 How does something as potent and evocative as the body become a relatively neutral artistic material From the 1960s much body art and performance conformed to the anti expressive ethos of minimalism and conceptualism whilst still using the compelling human form But how is this strange mismatch of vigour and impersonality able to transform the body into an expressive medium for visual art Focusing on renowned artists such as Lygia Clark Marina Abramovic and Angelica Mesiti Susan Best examines how bodies are configured in late modern and contemporary art She identifies three main ways in which they are used as material and argues that these formulations allow for the exposure of pressing social and psychological issues In skilfully aligning this new typology for body art and performance with critical theory she raises questions pertaining to gender inter subjectivity relation and community that continue to dominate both our artistic and cultural conversation

Artist as Author Christa Noel Robbins, 2021-06-29 With Artist as Author Christa Noel Robbins provides the first extended study of authorship in mid 20th century abstract painting in the US Taking a close look at this influential period of art history Robbins describes how artists and critics used the medium of painting to advance their own claims about the role that they believed authorship should play in dictating the value significance and social impact of the art object Robbins tracks the subject across two definitive periods the New York School as it was consolidated in the 1950s and Post Painterly Abstraction in the 1960s Through many deep dives into key artist archives Robbins brings to the page the minds and voices of painters Arshile Gorky Jack Tworkov Helen Frankenthaler Kenneth Noland Sam Gilliam and Agnes Martin along with those of critics such as Harold Rosenberg and Rosalind Krauss While these are all important characters in the polemical histories of American modernism this is the first time they are placed together in a single study and treated with equal measure as peers participating in the shared late modernist moment

Lee Lozano Jo Applin, 2018-01-01 An illuminating study of an overlooked artist from the 1960s whose work has recently returned to the limelight This is the first in depth study of the idiosyncratic ten year career of Lee Lozano 1930 1999 assuring this important artist a key place in histories of post war art The book charts the entirety of Lozano's production in 1960s New York from her raucous drawings and paintings depicting broken tools genitalia and other body parts to the final exhibition of her spectacular series of abstract Wave Paintings at the Whitney Museum of American Art in 1970 Highly regarded at the time Lozano is now perhaps best known for Dropout Piece 1970 a conceptual artwork and dramatic gesture with which she quit the art world Shortly afterwards she announced she would have no further contact with other women Her dropout and boycott of women lasted until her death by which time she was all but forgotten This book tackles head on the challenges that Lozano poses to art history and especially to feminist art history attending to her failures as well as her successes and arguing that through dead ends and impasses she struggled to forge an alternative mode of living Lee Lozano Not Working looks for the means to think about complex figures like Lozano whose radical politically ambiguous gestures test our assumptions about feminism and the right way to live and work     Art & Language International Robert Bailey,2016-05-19

In Art Language International Robert Bailey reconstructs the history of the conceptual art collective Art Language situating it in a geographical context to rethink its implications for the broader histories of contemporary art Focusing on its international collaborations with dozens of artists and critics in and outside the collective between 1969 and 1977 Bailey positions Art Language at the center of a historical shift from Euro American modernism to a global contemporary art He documents the collective s growth and reach from transatlantic discussions on the nature of conceptual art and the establishment of distinct working groups in New York and England to the collective s later work in Australia New Zealand and Yugoslavia Bailey also details its publications associations with political organizations and the internal power struggles that precipitated its breakdown Analyzing a wide range of artworks texts music and films he reveals how Art Language navigated between art worlds to shape the international profile of conceptual art Above all Bailey underscores how the group s rigorous and interdisciplinary work provides a gateway to understanding how conceptual art operates as a mode of thinking that exceeds the visual to shape the philosophical historical and political     Los sujetos Martí Manen,2015 Dal observado desde distintos momentos para dar el salto al presente en los trabajos de los artistas actuales nuevas incorporaciones a un lenguaje ya existente Los Sujetos plantea la necesidad de marcar un momento fuerte ahora siendo conscientes de un pasado escondido e inc modo Esta publicaci n tambi n recoge otras miradas las de cuatro voces invitadas que desde la afectividad la performatividad la vinculaci n contextual y el juicio a lo internacional ofrecen puntos de partida paralelos al proyecto expositivo Fuente Turner
