Weary Throats And New Songs:

Weary Throats and New Songs Teresa L. Fry Brown, 2003 Teresa Frye Brown's music ministry forms a background for her application of music as a metaphor to the preaching moment. In this book she interviews numerous preaching sistas and uses categories from her homiletics courses to structure the data that she found in the interviews. The result is a helpful Black Women's Commentary on the homiletic process. The first couple of chapters provide information on ordination and call that every male minister of the Gospel should keep in mind. It is a review of the gender barrier to ordination. Interestingly enough, this aspect of the book also demonstrated the resolve of our sisters to find ways and means to preach the gospel irregardless of these barriers. While we should never accept discrimination in any form, I did find the list of venues for women's in ministry to be a very helpful way to see other possible ways to minister apart from the pulpit in the church that all ministers male and female should look at. Our sisters have shown us the way to greater ministry. After call and ordination, Brown moves to a discussion of Biblical exegesis themes and structures for sermons by Black women. I found that this section demonstrated that while some women have a tendency towards preaching actively for liberation of women, most of the themes such as purpose, hope, and liberation of the poor hold much in common with the Black male preacher. And the Word Became Flesh Thomas H. Olbricht, David Fleer, 2009-06-01 In his fifty-three years, Michael W. Casey made an indelible impact upon all his academic friends in the United States, Great Britain, and elsewhere in the world. His thirty-some years of research and publications were multinational. Mike was especially adept at looking into archival details on the numerous subjects that interested him in communication, Scripture, and history, especially as they focused upon Churches of Christ and the Stone-Campbell Movement. If a scholar ever believed that the grandest project depends on the accuracy of the smallest component, it was Mike Casey. He believed that words were enfleshed in concrete persons. All his studies recognized the persuasive powers of committed humans. The title for this volume, therefore, is And the Word Became Flesh. The essays in this volume are divided into three sections. Those in the first section are on Restoration History. The second section is on communication studies. And the final section contains essays on a specialty of Casey's: conscientious objection, just war, and Christian peacemaking.

Spirit Speech Luke A. Powery, 2009 An exploration of the manifestations of the Holy Spirit in preaching.

From the Heart of a Pastor, J. Alfred Smith Sr. Martha C. Taylor, 2020-03-10 This book captures over three decades of Dr. Smith Sr.'s prayers, pastor-pens, and sermon outlines. First, he demonstrates that the Bible is a lasting and sure foundation for powerful preaching. Secondly, Pastor Smith demonstrates that relevant preaching does not seek to hide God in techniques of popularity and hunger for quick success. Thirdly, Dr. Smith Sr. demonstrates that we cannot lead people to God with godless preaching and teaching. A commitment to the Gospel of Jesus Christ does not require us to despise, demean, and disrespect other faith traditions. When Jesus healed, he did not ask for birth certificates, nationality oaths, ethnic, or racial loyalty oaths. Jesus is an inclusive Redeemer and Liberator. This book is a must-read for pastors.

professors parents students and others who desire to grow in the knowledge of preaching praying and applying God's words to the deeper human rights struggle The section on prayers reflect petitions to God for varying occasions congregational prayers public events church anniversaries baby dedications bereavements sickness intercessory prayers weddings funerals and a host of others Using ordinary words they reflect sincerity simplicity and selflessness Lastly in the tradition of keeping in touch with the congregation the Pastor Pen is a weekly bulletin Sunday writing that varies from current events biblical subjects and others challenges the church may be experiencing including financial appeals and a reminder that giving is a part of worshiping

Unmasking White Preaching Lis Valle-Ruiz, Andrew Wymer, 2022-04-06 This book examines the impact of white racialization in homiletics The first section Racial Hegemony interrogates the white colonial bias of Euro American homiletical practice pedagogy and theory with particular attention to the intersection of preaching and racialization The second section Resistance and Possibilities contributes diverse critical homiletical approaches emerging in conversation with racially minoritized scholarship and racially subjugated knowledge and practice By reading this book preachers and professors of preaching will encounter alternative non dominant homiletical pathways toward a more just future for the church and the world

Becoming Human Luke A. Powery, 2022-11-01 Discussions of racial difference always embody a story The dominant story told in our society about race has many components but two stand out 1 racial difference is an essential characteristic fully determining individual and group identity and 2 racial difference means that some bodies are less human than others The church knows another story says Luke Powery if it would remember it That story says that the diversity of human bodies is one of the gifts of the Spirit That story's decisive chapter comes at Pentecost when the Spirit embraces all bodies all flesh all tongues In that story different kinds of materiality and embodiment are strengths to be celebrated rather than inconvenient facts to be ignored or feared In this book Powery urges the church to live up to the inclusive story of Pentecost in its life of worship and ministry He reviews ways that a theology and practice of preaching can more fully exemplify the diversity of gifts God gives to the church He concludes by entering into a conversation with the work of Howard Thurman on doing ministry to and with humanity in the light of the work of the Spirit
