Laurie G. Kirschner, Stephen R. Mandell, 2012-02-01 Best selling authors and veteran college writing instructors Laurie Kirschner and Stephen Mandell believe that students learn to write best when they use their own writing as a starting point. In Writing First with Readings Practice in Context designed for the paragraph to essay course Kirschner and Mandell take seriously the ideas and expressive abilities of developmental students as well as their need to learn the rules of writing and grammar. Visual writing prompts that open every chapter get students writing immediately. By moving frequently between their own writing, writing models and instruction and workbook style mastery exercises, students get constant reinforcement of the skills they are learning. Thoughtful chapters on college success, research and critical reading, along with high interest essays round out the text, making it the perfect introduction to college writing. Read the preface.

Fostering Transformative Learning is about teaching for change. It is not an approach to be taken lightly, arbitrarily or without much thought. Many would argue that it requires intentional action, a willingness to take personal risk, a genuine concern for the learners' betterment and the wherewithal to draw on a variety of methods and techniques that help create a classroom environment that encourages and supports personal growth. What makes the work of transformative learning even more difficult is the lack of clear signposts or guidelines that teachers can follow when they try to teach for change. There is now a need to return to the classroom and look through the lens of those who have been engaged in the practice of fostering transformative learning.
