Annual Review of Comparative and International Education 2020 Alexander W. Wiseman, 2021-08-02 The Annual Review of Comparative and International Education covers significant developments in the field of comparative and international education This 2020 edition begins with a collection of discussion essays about comparative education trends and directions written by both professional and scholarly leaders Issues and Trends in International School Leadership Barker, Megel Ricardo, Hammer, Liam Leslie, 2024-12-06 As international schools continue to expand and evolve leaders in these unique educational settings face a range of distinct challenges Navigating diverse cultural contexts managing curriculum differences and meeting varying stakeholder expectations require innovative leadership strategies Addressing these issues is essential for fostering a cohesive and inclusive learning environment that adapts to the rapidly changing global education landscape Issues and Trends in International School Leadership delves deep into the multifaceted challenges evolving developments and emerging paradigms in leadership within the context of international schools By synthesizing research findings practical experiences and innovative strategies this book contributes to the advancement of knowledge and best practices in this crucial field Covering topics such as artificial intelligence AI K 12 education and teacher leadership this book is an excellent resource for researchers academicians practicing school leaders administrators educators policymakers government officials graduate students and more The Space of the World Nick Couldry, 2024-09-17 Over the past thirty years humanity has made a huge mistake We handed over to big tech decisions that have allowed them to build what has become our space of the world the highly artificial space of social media platforms where much of our social life now unfolds This has proved reckless and has huge social consequences The toxic effects on social life young people's mental health and political solidarity are well known but the key factor underlying all this has been missed the fact that humanity allowed business to construct our space of the world at all and then exploit it for profit In the process we ignored two millennia of political thought about the conditions under which a healthy or even a non violent politics is possible We endangered the one resource that is in desperately short supply in the face of catastrophic climate change solidarity Is human solidarity possible in a world of continuous digital connection and commercially managed platforms and what if it isn't In the first book of his trilogy Humanising the Future Nick Couldry offers a radical new vision of how to design our digital spaces so that they build rather than erode both solidarity and community This trenchant and vividly written book stresses that we cannot afford not to care for our space of the world We need to rebuild it together Reimagining Science Fiction Gary Westfahl, 2025-10-31 In the first decades of the twenty first century science fiction literature has been transformed in many ways as the genre has reacted to the dominating influence of films television and video games the growing popularity of fantasy the rise of young adult science fiction and graphic novels the impact of the internet and social media and the increasing diversity of the authors characters and often non Western settings The essays making up this volume address these and other changes in two ways Some consider new critical approaches to science fiction in response to changing circumstances including analyses of how evolutionary psychology explains today's science fiction the emerging subgenre of cli fi exploring the effects of climate change the use of science fiction in different areas of the college curriculum and a statistical method for identifying works of science fiction Others examine significant new authors such as Nalo Hopkinson Charles Stross Paolo Bacigalupi Suzanne Collins Mira Grant John Sandford and David Mura Contributors include science fiction author Howard V Hendrix and experts in the fields of Chinese studies gender studies literature philosophy and religion

Horse Girls Halimah Marcus, 2021-08-03 A wild rollicking ride into the heart of horse country these essays get at what it means to love horses in all that love's complexity Anton

DiSclafani author of The Yonahlossee Riding Camp for Girls A compelling and provocative essay collection that smashes stereotypes and redefines the meaning of the term horse girl broadening it for women of all cultural backgrounds As a child horses consumed Halimah Marcus imagination When she wasn't around horses she was pretending to be one cantering on two legs hands poised to hold invisible reins To her classmates girls like Halimah were known as horse girls weird and overzealous absent from the social worlds of their peers Decades later when memes about horse girl energy began appearing across social media Halimah reluctantly recognized herself The jokes imagine girls as blinkered as carriage ponies oblivious to the mockery behind their backs The stereotypical horse girl is also white thin rich and straight a daughter of privilege Yet so many riders don't fit this narrow damaging ideal and relate to horses in profound ways that include ambivalence and regret as well as unbridled passion and devotion Featuring some of the most striking voices in contemporary literature including Carmen Maria Machado Pulitzer prize winner Jane Smiley T Kira Madden Maggie Shipstead and Courtney Maum Horse Girls reframes the iconic bond between girls and horses with the complexity and nuance it deserves And it showcases powerful emerging voices like Braudie Blais Billie on the connection between her Seminole and Quebécois heritage Sarah Enelow Snyder on growing up as a Black barrel racer in central Texas and Nur Nasreen Ibrahim on the colonialist influence on horse culture in Pakistan By turns thought provoking and personal Horse Girls reclaims its titular stereotype to ask bold questions about autonomy and desire privilege and ambition identity and freedom and the competing forces of domestication and wildness
