Supervision In The Helping Professions Individual Group And Organizational Approach:

Supervision in the Helping Professions Peter Hawkins, Robin Shohet, 1989 The latest edition of this best selling book on supervision updates and expands the previous two editions with references to the developments and writing in the field over the last six years. Since the publication of the previous edition supervision has continued to spread from the professions of counselling, psychotherapy and social work into all medical professions and more recently into education, coaching, mentoring and human resources management. This book provides relevant information for people working in all of these fields. The seven eyed supervision model which is at the core of the book has been expanded and developed to reflect its use in many professions and different parts of the world. The authors have also incorporated view points from other academics who have constructively observed the model. The authors have added a number of new approaches, models and techniques to this new edition including New techniques for supervising in groups, The Clear model for structuring the process of a supervision session, How to adapt supervision to learning styles, How to use video and interpersonal process recall in training supervisors, New material on research and action research in supervision, Expansion of the chapter on working transculturally to include analysis of the challenges of working with asylum seekers and refugees. The extensively updated and enlarged book provides key reading for professionals across the social care and helping professions as well as those working in Education, Coaching and HR.

EBOOK: Supervision in the Helping Professions Peter Hawkins, Robin Shohet, 2012-07-16. Supervision in the Helping Professions remains a core text in our trainings and we welcome the updates including the increased focus on ethics and diversity, the discussion of e-enabled modes of supervision and the review of research. What is so encouraging to students, trainers and practitioners is the beginner's mind with which the authors continue to approach the subject, their tireless enthusiasm for enquiry and their commitment to the learning edge. The launch of this edition coincides with the launch of the first UKCP Professional Register for Supervisors. The authors have done much to promote the development of supervision and all future professional trainings in supervision will rely on their wisdom and experience. Key words for this edition are sustainability, resourcing and deeper levels of self reflection, mirroring the movement of our profession which increasingly turns outwards, asking how we can effect societal as well as individual change. Tree Staunton, Director of Studies, Bath Centre for Psychotherapy and Counselling and Chair of the Humanistic and Integrative College of UKCP. This book remains a seminal text in supervision. In the fourth edition the authors bring a contemporary perspective to bear on supervision with an emphasis on the wider contextual and cultural contexts of our work as supervisors. I appreciate above all the fearless compassion with which the authors have addressed the challenges that face us as supervisors in a global culture and at the same time their ongoing stress on integrating the emotional and the rational, the personal and the organizational in a very accessible model of supervision. Professor Maria Gilbert, Metanoia Institute, West London. This bestselling book provides a comprehensive guide to supervision for professionals across the social care and helping professions as well as those working in education coaching and human resources Thoroughly updated the book has a new introduction showing how the world context in which helping professions operate has fundamentally changed in the last 25 years and the implications of this for supervision The seven eyed supervision model at the core of the book has been expanded and developed to reflect its use in many professions and different parts of the world The authors also incorporate viewpoints from other academics and practitioners who have commented on the model New to this edition A new chapter on ethics and handling difficult situations in supervisionA new chapter and new models of reflective practiceNew material on training supervisors including the important area of supervision of supervisionRevised chapters on group and team supervision with new material on supervising team development and team coachingMore case studies of supervision in a wide range of different professionsFurther practical advice for supervisees on how to recognize contribute to and ask for good supervision With contributions from Judy Ryde and Joan Wilmot Principles and Practice of Informal Education Linda Deer Richardson,Mary Wolfe,2004-11-23 This new and exciting text is aimed at informal educators involved in youth work community work and adult education and health promotion The contributors explore the principles and practice of informal education and focus in particular on the notion of working with which is central to practice in this sector The book argues for an approach which is relevant to a number of professional fields and which focuses on a way of working rather than upon a specific target group The book looks at the role of an educator in informal education and youth work settings Comprehensive and analytical it looks at social cultural and political contexts of education The authors discuss the practical side of teaching from the setting programme planning and communication to activity based work one to one case work formal group work and managing the work load Finally the book analyses developing professional practice the use of line management and supervision and evaluation of work Training Counselling Supervisors Elizabeth Holloway,Michael Carroll,1999-05-28 Experienced supervisors would find it useful to read as a part of their continuous professional development Counselling at Work Highlighting the crucial themes intrinsic to the supervision process this volume offers a varied selection of methods for educating supervisors Experienced international trainers describe how they teach critical elements in the practice of supervision and outline their models for teaching in the context of their practice The book covers a wide range of topics including contracting reflective processes supervision in group and multicultural contexts and evaluation The text is organized to bring continuity across the elements addressed and to heighten aware An Introduction to the Therapeutic Relationship in Counselling and Psychotherapy Stephen Paul,Divine Charura,2014-10-16 The therapeutic relationship is considered to be the most significant factor in achieving positive therapeutic change As such it is essential that trainee and practising therapists are able to facilitate a strong working alliance with each of their clients This book will help them do just that by offering a practical and evidence based guide to all aspects of the therapeutic relationship in counselling and psychotherapy Cross modal in its approach this book examines the issues impacting on the therapeutic relationship true to

Emotions and Needs Dawn Freshwater, Chris Robertson, 2002 Robertson and Freshwater explicitly use the development of a therapeutic relationship and parallel with it the development of an individual psyche as a vehicle for their exploration of emotions and needs The subtlety is that their exploration like psychotherapy itself begins with the complexity and ends with the simplicity Self Society Through the centrality of the concepts of needs and emotions this volume describes and discusses issues that are fundamental to psychotherapy As an alternative to classifying modalities of psychotherapy and the way in which they understand needs and emotions by their author era or underpinning philosophy this book focuses instead on the emotional patterning of psychotherapy The book explores need and emotion in relation to what patients bring to therapy and what subsequently facilitates effective engagement Examining ways of understanding the manifestation of needs and emotions the authors bring differing therapeutic schools of thought together in contemporary models of integrative psychotherapy which draw upon the transpersonal postmodern and poststructural The book is illustrated throughout with clinical vignettes which help the reader ground the theoretical concepts in everyday practice The discussions in this volume not only add to the current body of knowledge surrounding the fundamental concepts of emotions and needs but also make a long overdue contribution to the psychotherapeutic professions Emotions and Needs will be of interest to students and practitioners in fields such as counselling psychotherapy clinical psychology and social work Leading Work with Young People Roger Harrison,2007-08-17 This is the first book about managing youth work for a very long time and is very welcome The book will help the developing practitioner become better equipped to lead youth work that is soundly informed by their professional values It will also be a valuable source for more experienced practitioners wanting to dip in for some analytical sustenance for their daily youth work management Mary Tyler Principal Lecturer De Montfort University Leading Work with Young People provides a selection of writing from a complex and dynamic field of work The editors bring together key readings and newly commissioned material to present a variety of theoretical and practical perspectives on leading and managing work with young people The book will equip students with the knowledge skills values and principles required for successful qualification as a worker in the field Chapters include understanding leadership supervision multi agency work managing change Leading Work with Young People is a student friendly and engaging text which examines the leadership roles which practitioners take on as members of teams organisations and interagency partnerships The book is an essential text for all those studying for qualification in work with young people and for those who wish to extend their understanding of the field It is also an invaluable resource for experienced professionals and practice supervisors working with young people in statutory or voluntary organisations Leading Work with Young People is a Course Reader for the Open University course Leading Work with Young People E132 Clinical Supervision in the Helping Professions Gerald Corey,Robert H.
