Supranational Criminal Prosecution of Sexual Violence Anne-Marie de Brouwer, Anne-Marie L. M. de Brouwer, 2005
The 1996 report of the United Nations Special Rapporteur on Rwanda stated that during the 1994 genocide in Rwanda rape was the rule and its absence the exception. Indeed rape and other forms of sexual violence as constituting genocide crimes against humanity or war crimes directed in particular against women have taken place on a massive scale since time immemorial and are still rampant.

Wartime Sexual Violence at the International Level: A Legal Perspective
Caterina E. Arrabal Ward, 2018-07-10
In Wartime Sexual Violence at the International Level: A Legal Perspective Dr Caterina Arrabal Ward discusses the understanding of wartime sexual violence by the international tribunals and argues that wartime sexual violence often takes place without the explicit purpose to destroy a community or population and is not necessarily a strategic choice. This research suggests that a more focused approach based on a much clearer definition of these crimes would help to remedy deficiencies at the different stages of international justice in relation to these crimes.

Sexual Violence and Effective Redress for Victims in Post-Conflict Situations: Emerging Research and Opportunities
Sikulibo, Jean de Dieu, 2019-01-25
All too often in situations of armed conflicts rape and other acts of sexual violence are used as military tactics. The use of sexual violence as a strategy of war is distinctively destructive and not only leaves victims with significant psychological scars but also tears apart the fabric of families and affected communities. Sexual Violence and Effective Redress for Victims in Post Conflict Situations: Emerging Research and Opportunities is a collection of innovative research that analyzes these crimes and their implications for the needs of victims in post conflict justice processes and how these needs can be effectively addressed in order to support the affected community. To conduct this analysis it explores the distinct aspects of these crimes to understand the nature and extent of the social challenges and damage facing the victim and examines the challenges and limitations of international criminal justice in dealing with a wide range of victim needs. While highlighting topics including judicial accountability, victims rights and criminal justice, this book is ideally designed for psychologists, therapists, government officials, academicians, policymakers and researchers.

Gender, Shame and Sexual Violence Sara Sharratt, 2016-04-22
Drawing on extensive interview material gathered amongst victims, witnesses, judges and NGOs, this book investigates the prosecution of rape and sexual violence in war crimes tribunals with special attention to The International Court for the Former Yugoslavia (ICTY) and World Court in Sarajevo. It examines the testimonies of victims and witnesses and their reasons for testifying, their attitudes towards perpetrators, the consequences of testifying, their recommendations for other witnesses and conceptions of justice. In addition it explores the attitudes of judges, prosecutors, psychologists and those in charge of protecting and offering services. Adopting a feminist approach, Gender, Shame and Sexual Violence challenges the assumption that the deterrent effect of making rape trials more visible would reduce the occurrence of sexual violence in conflict situations, contending instead that the manner in which cases are handled both increases the victims sense of shame and serves to propagate a representation of women s bodies that may actually serve to increase the use of sexual violence during war A compelling analysis of the prosecution of rape as a war crime this volume offers extensive new empirical material that will be of interest to scholars of sociology gender studies criminology politics international relations and law     The United Nations Security Council in the Age of Human Rights Jared Genser, Bruno Stagno Ugarte, 2014-06-05 The first comprehensive look at the human rights dimensions of the work of the only UN body capable of compelling action by its member states     Gender, Sexualities and Law Jackie Jones, Anna Grear, Rachel Anne Fenton, Kim Stevenson, 2011-03-17 Bringing together an international range of academics Gender Sexualities and Law provides a comprehensive interrogation of the range of contemporary issues both topical and controversial raised by the gendered character of law legal discourse and institutions The gendering of law persons and the legal profession along with the gender bias of legal outcomes has been a fractious but fertile focus of reflection It has moreover been an important site of political struggle This collection of essays offers an unrivalled examination of its various contemporary dimensions focusing on issues of theory and representation violence both national and international reproduction and parenting and partnership sexuality marriage and the family Gender Sexualities and Law will be invaluable for all those engaged in research and study of the law and related fields as a form of gendered power     The President on Trial Sharon Weill, Kim Thuy Seelinger, Kerstin Bree Carlson, 2020-05-27 During the 1980s thousands of Chadian citizens were detained tortured and raped by then President Hiss ne Habr s security forces Decades later Habr was finally prosecuted for his role in these atrocities not in his own country or in The Hague but across the African continent at the Extraordinary African Chambers in Senegal By some accounts Habr s trial and conviction by a specially built court in Dakar is the most significant achievement of global criminal justice in the past decade Simply creating a court and commencing a trial against a deposed head of state was an extraordinary success With its 2016 judgment affirmed on appeal in 2017 the hybrid tribunal in Senegal exceeded expectations working to deadlines and within its budget with no murdered witnesses or self dealing officials This book details and contextualizes the Habr trial It presents the trial and its impact using a novel structure of first person accounts from 26 direct actors Part I accompanied by academic analysis from leading experts on international criminal justice Part II Combined these views present both local and international perspectives through distinct but inter locking parts empirical source material from understudied actors both within and outside the court is then contextualized with expert analysis that reflects on the construction and work of the Extraordinary African Chamber EAC as well as wider themes of international criminal law Together with an introduction laying out the work and significance of the EAC and its trial of Hiss ne Habr the book is a comprehensive consideration of a history making trial     Supranational Criminology Alette Smeulders, Roelof Haveman, 2008 The study of international crimes such as war crimes crimes against humanity and genocide deserves to grow into a separate and fully fledged specialization within criminology called supranational criminology Supranational
