Surf Craft Richard Kenvin,2014-07-18 The evolution of the surfboard from traditional Hawaiian folk designs to masterpieces of mathematical engineering to mass produced fiberglass Surfboards were once made of wood and shaped by hand objects of both cultural and recreational significance Today most surfboards are mass produced with fiberglass and a stew of petrochemicals moving or floating billboards for athletes and their brands emphasizing the commercial rather than the cultural Surf Craft maps this evolution examining surfboard design and craft with 150 color images and an insightful text From the ancient Hawaiian alaia the traditional board of the common people to the unadorned boards designed with mathematical precision but built by hand by Bob Simmons to the store bought longboards popularized by the 1959 surf exploitation movie Gidget board design reflects both aesthetics and history The decline of traditional alaia board riding is not only an example of a lost art but also a metaphor for the disintegration of traditional culture after the Republic of Hawaii was overthrown and annexed in the 1890s In his text Richard Kenvin looks at the craft and design of surfboards from a historical and cultural perspective He views board design as an exemplary model of mingei or art of the people and the craft philosophy of Soetsu Yanagi Yanagi believed that a design s true beauty and purpose are revealed when it is put to its intended use In its purest form the craft of board building along with the act of surfing itself exemplifies mingei Surf Craft pays particular attention to Bob Simmons s boards which are striking examples of this kind of functional design mirroring the work of postwar modern California designers Surf Craft is published in conjunction with an exhibition at San Diego s Mingei International Museum    The Critical Surf Studies Reader Dexter Zavalza Hough-Snee,Alexander Sotelo

Eastman,2017-08-17 The evolution of surfing from the first forms of wave riding in Oceania Africa and the Americas to the inauguration of surfing as a competitive sport at the 2020 Tokyo Olympics traverses the age of empire the rise of globalization and the onset of the digital age taking on new meanings at each juncture As corporations have sought to promote surfing as a lifestyle and leisure enterprise the sport has also narrated its own epic myths that place North America at the center of surf culture and relegate Hawai i and other indigenous surfing cultures to the margins The Critical Surf Studies Reader brings together eighteen interdisciplinary essays that explore surfing s history and development as a practice embedded in complex and sometimes oppositional social political economic and cultural relations Refocusing the history and culture of surfing this volume pays particular attention to reclaiming the roles that women indigenous peoples and people of color have played in surfing Contributors Douglas Booth Peter Brosius Robin Canniford Krista Comer Kevin Dawson Clifton Evers Chris Gibson Dina Gilio Whitaker Dexter Zavalza Hough Snee Scott Laderman Kristin Lawler lisahunter Colleen McGloin Patrick Moser Tara Ruttenberg Cori Schumacher Alexander Sotelo Eastman Glen Thompson Isaiah Helekunihi Walker Andrew Warren Belinda Wheaton    Bicycling, Motorcycling, Rhetoric, and Space Hunter H. Fine,2022-10-03 Bicycling Motorcycling Rhetoric and Space draws from cultural studies rhetorical theory and political philosophy to examine bicycling and motorcycling as serious forms of communication and even thought By analyzing how everyday movements function in modern and postmodern contexts Hunter H Fine is able to determine the social meanings behind human powered and motorized forms of cycling Through the lenses of sophistic rhetoric and poststructuralist theory the author uncovers how such mobilities inform our thoughts and interactions Throughout history this informing process has promoted specific ways of thinking that have resulted in moments of protest conquest awareness and transgression which all involve a cycling rhetoric This book contributes to various academic fields within the liberal arts and humanities while further establishing bicycling and motorcycling as important social theoretical and political areas of inquiry Scholars of rhetoric communication studies cultural studies and philosophy will find this book of particular interest Sport in Museums Kevin Moore,John Hughson,Christian Wacker,2022-06-24 This book explores in breadth and depth the role of sport in museums It surveys the history of sport in museums including the growth in sport museums and halls of fame driven by major sports teams and sport organisations The book considers the humanistic benefits of the promotion of sporting heritage within museums and presents cases museums stories and best practice from around the world Sport in Museums is essential reading for all students researchers curators and historians with an interest in sport It is also a useful resource for researchers and advanced students working in museum studies heritage studies or cultural history Modern Sports around the World David Asa Schwartz,2021-06-14 This superbly written volume will appeal to sports and physical education students researchers in foreign policy gender studies history politics sociology and technology and general high school and college readers who enjoy the odd sports history factoid Library Journal Sports have become an international spectacle that influences nations foreign policy world economies and regional morale Hundreds of billions of dollars are at stake as governments and multinational corporations rush to make sure they have a place at the table And yet sports come from humble beginnings We are fascinated by who can run the fastest lift the most weight jump the highest swim the farthest and act with the most precision The history of sports is the history of the world Each chapter features one sport and details that sport s origins global migration economic forces media influences political environment pop culture inspirations scandalous moments and key individuals Sports history is a tapestry of sociological variables this text weaves them together to create a unique history book that explains not only where humanity has been but where it might be going Design Issues ,2014 Sport, Culture, and Society John W. Surfing Places, Surfboard Makers Andrew Warren,Chris Gibson,2014-01-31 Over the last forty years surfing has emerged from its Pacific islands origins to become a global industry Since its beginnings more than a thousand years ago surfing's icon has been the surfboard its essential instrument the point of physical connection between human and nature body and wave To a surfer a board is more than a piece of equipment it is a symbol a physical emblem of cultural social and emotional meanings Based on research in three important surfing locations Hawaii southern California and southeastern Australia this is the first book to trace the surfboard from regional craft tradition to its key role in the billion dollar surfing business The surfboard workshops of Hawaii California and Australia are much more than sites of surfboard manufacturing They are hives of creativity where legacies of rich cultural heritage and the local environment combine to produce unique bold board designs customized to suit prevailing waves The globalization and corporatization of surfing have presented small independent board makers with many challenges stemming from the wide availability of cheap mass produced boards and the influx of new surfers The authors follow the story of board makers who have survived these challenges and stayed true to their calling by keeping the mythology and creativity of board making alive In addition they explore the heritage of the craft the secrets of custom board production the role of local geography in shaping board styles and the survival of hand crafting skills From the olo boards of ancient Hawaiian kahuna to the high tech designs that represent the current state of the industry Surfing Places Surfboard Makers offers an entr e into the world of surfboard making that will find an eager audience among researchers and students of Pacific culture history geography and economics as well as surfing enthusiasts     Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress,1960     Books in Print ,1987
