Valderrama, Jennifer L. Hopgood, Sandra Guerra Thompson, 2011-07-27 The exoneration of more than two hundred and fifty people who have been wrongfully convicted makes it clear that America's criminal justice system isn't foolproof. It's important to understand the causes of wrongful conviction in order to find solutions to this growing problem. Edited by one of the nation's leading legal scholars and two of her top students, this collection of essays examines critical issues including what American justice in the age of innocence looks like, how to implement procedural mechanisms to ensure the integrity of the judicial system while safeguarding the public, whether or not the legal system is doing a good enough job uncovering wrongful convictions. This anthology provides insightful lessons based on cutting edge research and legal analysis. Wrongful convictions are not a foregone conclusion, but the justice system must break free from a pattern of punishing innocent people and go after the true culprits. Written for judges, lawyers, and scholars alike, American Justice in the Age of Innocence educates the public and helps current prisoners who are innocent contest their wrongful convictions. Courtney B. Lance, 2015-02-24 Imagine you are in prison for a crime you did not commit. You cannot believe what has happened to you and you're certain the system will correct the error yet years later you're still behind bars. In Pruno, Ramen, and a Side of Hope, those who have been wrongfully convicted tell stories of hope, redemption, and how they continued to believe that the system that put them behind bars would eventually find them innocent. Get a glimpse of life inside some of America's prisons and discover how each exoneree survived and, in some cases, thrived and prevailed against overwhelming odds. Valena Beety, 2022-05-31 Just as the Black Lives Matter movement and recent protests have shown the leadership of women of color in organizing against the prison state, this book will show the leadership of women which is too often ignored in the innocence movement. Aya Gruber, Professor of Law, University of Colorado Law School, author of The Feminist War on Crime. Through the lens of her work with the Innocence Movement and her client Leigh Stubbs, a woman denied a fair trial in 2000 largely due to her sexual orientation, innocence litigator, activist, and founder of the West Virginia Innocence Project, Valena Beety examines the failures in America's criminal legal system and the reforms necessary to eliminate wrongful convictions, particularly with regards to women, the queer community, and people of color. When Valena Beety first became a federal prosecutor, her goal was to protect victims, especially women, from cycles of violence. What she discovered was that not only did prosecutions often fail to help victims they frequently relied on false information forensic fraud and police and prosecutor misconduct Seeking change Beety began working in the Innocence Movement helping to free factually innocent people through DNA testing and criminal justice reform Manifesting Justice focuses on the shocking story of Beety's client Leigh Stubbs a young queer woman in Mississippi convicted of a horrific crime she did not commit because of her sexual orientation Beety weaves Stubbs's harrowing narrative through the broader story of a broken criminal justice system where defendants including disproportionate numbers of women of color and queer individuals are convicted due to racism prejudice coerced confessions and false identifications Drawing on interviews with both innocence advocates and wrongfully convicted women along with Beety's own experiences as an expert litigator and a queer woman Manifesting Justice provides a unique outsider insider perspective Beety expands our notion of justice to include not just people who are factually innocent but those who are over charged pressured into bad plea deals and over sentenced The result is a riveting and timely book that not only advocates for reforming the conviction process it will transform our very ideas of crime and punishment what innocence is and who should be free With a Foreword by Koa Beck author of White Feminism A shocking study of how the criminal justice system discriminates an invigorating and eye opening call to action Publishers Weekly A thought provoking book about the American justice system Beety an innocence litigator and former federal prosecutor concludes her important book by proclaiming Let's manifest justice now Booklist Anatomy of Innocence Laura Caldwell, Leslie S Klinger, 2017-04-11 Recalling the great muckrakers of the past an outraged team of America's best selling writers unite to confront the disasters of wrongful convictions Wrongful convictions long regarded as statistical anomalies in an otherwise sound justice system now appear with frightening regularity But few people understand just how or why they happen and more important the immeasurable consequences that often haunt the lucky few who are acquitted years after they are proven innocent Now in this groundbreaking anthology fourteen exonerated inmates narrate their stories to a roster of high profile mystery and thriller writers including Lee Child Sara Paretsky Laurie R King Jan Burke and S J Rozan while another exoneree's case is explored in a previously unpublished essay by legendary playwright Arthur Miller An astonishing and unique collaboration these testimonies bear witness to the incredible stories of innocent men and women who were convicted of serious crimes and cast into the maw of a vast and deeply flawed American criminal justice system before eventually and miraculously being exonerated Introduced by best selling authors Scott Turow and Barry Scheck these master storytellers capture the tragedy of wrongful convictions as never before and challenge readers to confront the limitations and harsh realities of the American criminal justice system Lee Child tells of Kirk Bloodsworth who obsessively read about the burgeoning field of DNA testing cautiously hoping that it held the key to his acquittal until he eventually became the first person to be exonerated from death row based on DNA evidence Judge John Sheldon and author Gayle Lynds team up to share Audrey Edmunds's experience raising her children long distance from her prison cell And exoneree Gloria Killian
