Sustainable Development Of Tourism In Deserts Guidelines For Decision Makers:

Sustainable Development of Tourism in Deserts Sabrina Benmecheri, 2007      Management, Tourism and Smart Technologies Carlos Montenegro, Álvaro Rocha, Juan Manuel Cueva Lovelle, 2024-01-03 This book presents advances in the research of various entities in the world which are working on the application of technology or management in tourism. Indeed, one of the sectors hardest hit by the pandemic was tourism; likewise, one of the post-pandemic effects is the rapid recovery of the sector, but more importantly is the great innovation that has occurred in marketing strategies for tourism using technology and applying management strategies not only to be more profitable but to have the best customer satisfaction. The book is aimed at the general public that seeks to innovate, learn from lessons learned and establish a knowledge base in mechanisms that apply technology or management in tourism with the aim of improving the experience of all those involved in the business chain. This compendium aims to share all those great experiences and researches in the areas of Management, Tourism Marketing strategies in Management, Tourism and Technology, Technology Applied, Computer Science, Artificial Intelligence, Business Administration, Cloud Computing, Educational Management, Finance, Insurance and Services, Management, Health, Tourism, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, Planning and Management, Information Technologies in Tourism, Internet Technology, Knowledge Management, Management of Supply Chain and Logistics, Marketing Innovation, Robotics, Strategic Management Innovation, Sustainability Management, Technical Economy, Management, Technical Innovation and Management, Technology in Tourism and Tourist Experience, Tourism Industry and Ecology, Tourism Management, a total of 77 research projects and many spaces and relationships between researchers to collaborate in the advancement of science are presented.      Routledge Handbook on Tourism in the Middle East and North Africa Dallen Timothy, 2018-12-07 The Routledge Handbook on Tourism in the Middle East and North Africa examines the importance of tourism as a historical, economic, social, environmental, religious and political force in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA). It highlights the ecological and resource challenges related to water, desert environments, climate change and oil. It provides an in-depth analysis of the geopolitical conditions that have long determined the patterns of tourism demand and supply throughout the region and how these play out in the everyday lives of residents and destinations as they attempt to grow tourism or ignore it entirely. While cultural heritage remains the primary tourism asset for the region as a whole, many new types of tourism are emerging, especially in the Arabian Gulf region, where hyper-development is closely associated with the increasingly prominent role of luxury real estate and shopping, retail, medical, tourism, cruises and transit tourism. The growing phenomenon of an expatriate workforce and how its segregation from the citizenry creates a dual socio-economic system in several countries is unmatched by other regions of the world. Many indigenous people of MENA keep themselves apart from other dominant groups in the region, although these social boundaries are becoming increasingly blurred as tourism, being one socio-economic force for change, has inspired many nomadic peoples to settle into towns and villages and rely more on tourists for their livelihoods All of these issues and more shape the foundations of this book This Handbook is the first of its kind to examine tourism from a broad regional and inclusive perspective surveying a broad range of social cultural heritage ecological and political matters in a single volume With a wide range of contributors many of whom are natives of the Middle East and North Africa this Handbook is a vital resource for students and scholars interested in Tourism Middle East Studies and Geography Tourism as a Tool for Development P. Díaz,2013-10-30 Some researchers perceive tourism as a process which creates dependency and causes loss of socioeconomic and environmental control and is harmful to traditional sociocultural structures For others it is clearly an opportunity for development and convergence among societies The main consequences of tourism are economic sociocultural and socio ecological ones These directly affect the natural and cultural landscape as well as the inhabitants of the destinations Proper management can unite the local community strengthen the historical memory and promote the recognition that the landscape is a legacy worth preserving If local people can learn to appreciate the need for regulation and careful development of cultural tourism then it is possible to have an alternative to the strategies of convenience based upon the view of tourism only for profit Designing tourism to serve heritage and local sustainable development not only helps to conserve the resources that make it possible but also complies with the ethical duty to guide social perception towards awareness and respect which in turn will lead to sustainability By means of case studies and theoretical developments the authors attempt to present methods designed to minimise the impacts of tourism and encourage its positive effects Some ideas in the book discuss the role of local communities their participation in development management the singularities of community tourism planning local governance and the relationship between socio economic benefits and impacts Marine Tourism and Climate Change Impacts Prashant Raturi,2025-02-20 Marine Tourism and Climate Change Impacts explores the intricate relationship between marine tourism and climate change We cover a wide range of topics including different types of coastal and marine tourism the importance of coastal ecosystems threats to marine tourism from climate change and planning for its impacts Marine tourism is a growing industry that benefits many coastal communities However climate change poses a major threat to this sector We discuss various strategies to mitigate these impacts and safeguard the future of marine tourism Our book provides a comprehensive understanding of how climate change affects marine tourism and what can be done to address these challenges It is a valuable resource for anyone interested in learning more about this critical issue Geomorphology of Desert Environments Vinayak Joshipura,2025-02-20 Geomorphology of Desert Environments delves into the intricate processes and landforms that shape arid landscapes worldwide Authored by leading experts this comprehensive book explores the dynamic interactions between geological forces climate patterns and ecological systems in desert regions We begin with an overview of geomorphology principles including erosion deposition and weathering processes specific to deserts The role of aeolian processes such as wind erosion and sand dune formation is examined showcasing iconic desert landforms like sand seas and yardangs Through detailed case studies and field observations we highlight the diversity of desert landscapes and the unique geomorphic features of different desert regions From the sandstone buttes of the American Southwest to the salt flats of the Sahara Desert each chapter explores the geological history environmental dynamics and ecological significance of desert landforms We also delve into human environment interactions shaping desert landscapes including the impacts of human activities on erosion rates soil degradation and desertification Sustainable land management practices water resource management and conservation efforts in arid regions are examined Richly illustrated with maps diagrams and photographs this book is an indispensable resource for understanding the complex interplay of geological climatic and ecological factors in desert environments A WTO-GATS-Tourism Impact Assessment Framework for Developing Countries , UNEP 2006 Annual Report United Nations Environment Programme,2007-05-18 This is a summary of UNEP s activities in 2006 The main purpose of UNEP is to encourage international co operation in preserving and protecting the environment This objective is developed alongside other United Nations departments and international governments by addressing issues such as climate change and sustainable development challenges Environmental issues also tie into poverty reduction and the general development strategies as set out in the Millennium Development Goals The theme of this particular annual report is change climate change energy change ecosystem change and how such change with impact on future generations Sustainable Development of Tourism in Deserts (Arabic Version) , UNEP Annual Report United Nations Environment Programme,2003 Traditional Dwellings and Settlements Review ,1998 Tourism for Sustainable Development ,2000 Papers presented at an International Conclave on Tourism for Sustainable Development Israel Environment Bulletin ,1995 EDRA; Proceedings of the Annual Environmental Design Research Association Conference Environmental Design Research Association,2004 Management Guidelines for IUCN Category V Protected Areas Adrian Phillips,2002 Protected Landscapes IUCN Protected Area Category V are lived in working landscapes In the past there has been a tendency to see them as a rather Eurocentric approach to protected areas but increasingly the category is being designated in other parts of the world including in a number of developing countries The Guidelines include sections on the background and on the planning of such areas and chapters on the principles policies process and the means for their management The text includes more than twenty case studies from ore than fifteen countries in every region of the world Investing in Indigenous Natural Resource Management M. K. Luckert,2007 This book assesses the case for investing in Indigenous natural resource management NRM in tropical Australia Indigenous people provide a number of public goods in relation to environmental management for which they are not remunerated Their presence on country should be viewed as a national asset The health of Australia s Indigenous people remains unacceptably Individual and collective engagement with ancestrally significant land and sea improves health outcomes while also supporting individual autonomy and social cohesion through cultural practices This book brings together a broad suite of authors with an understanding of Indigenous NRM and the economics thereof Indigenous NRM emerges as a keystone policy area that could allow integration of many policy fields commonly considered in isolation The editors of this book all have wide experience in the fields covered by this book Professor Marty Luckert from the University of Alberta has been offering insights into the economics of environmental management around the world for decades Professor Bruce Campbell from Charles Darwin University CDU has an international reputation for his work on livelihoods among the rural poor Julian Gorman CDU has played a key role in fostering wildlife based industries among Indigenous people in the monsoonal tropics of the Northern Territory and Professor Stephen Garnett CDU has broad experience in management of tropical environments particularly northern Australia

Protected Areas and the Regional Planning Imperative in North America John Chadwick Day, James Gordon Nelson, Lucy M. Sportza, 2003 Regional planning is imperative if North America has any hope of retaining continental biodiversity This timely collection of essays that presents new protected area theory method and practice reinforces this theme of regional planning With a North American focus these essays consider the history ecology policy and planning of protected areas while raising awareness of their contribution to society Contemporary understanding of protected areas are challenged as the book forces readers to move from a mentality of the past that saw protected areas as fortresses to a wider understanding of where protected areas are seen as interdependent with other landscapes in the matters of biodiversity ecological integrity and environmental health Public officials in resources and environmental management NGOs concerned with parks and protected areas and students of tourism environment and planning and education will find current ideology and application in this collection of essays by scholars from Canada the United States and Mexico
