The Logos Reader The Logos Reader:

Reading in the Presence of Christ: A Study of Dietrich Bonhoeffer's Bibliology and Exegesis Joel Banman,2021-02-11 Bonhoeffer's writings include a significant amount of biblical interpretation but his potential contributions in the fields of biblical studies and theological exegesis of Scripture have not been sufficiently explored. This study reassesses some of his key exegetical writings in light of his theology of revelation and bibliology unfolding the ways in which his reading of the Bible is determined by his theology of Scripture. Through this analysis Joel Banman demonstrates that the uniting factor of Bonhoeffer's biblical interpretation is not methodological but bibliological he reads Scripture as the living word of the present Christ. *The complete Bible commentary for English readers, by various writers, ed. by C.J. are part of the gospel's racial rhetoric. By drawing from the insights of Latinx texts and theology this book reveals how the prologue provides a lens to read the entire gospel with a keen awareness of Jesus's engagement with people groups from his own family to the Roman authorities. The prologue participates in the gospel's racial rhetoric by shaping the reader's racial imagination even before a person enters the narrative. By doing so Jesus's identity becomes constructed and defined through racial rhetoric since the opening verses of John's gospel. Habits of Hope Todd C. Ream, Jerry Pattengale, Christopher J. Devers, 2024-11-12. Christians called to academic vocations need authentic hope to sustain their work and they need to be able to share that hope with a weary world. Combining theology and practical application essays from master practitioners focus on how six educational practices can cultivate hope for educators, their students and everyone they serve. The
