Inverting the Pyramid Jonathan Wilson, 2008 Whether it's Terry Venables keeping his wife up late at night with diagrams on scraps of paper spread over the eiderdown or the classic TV sitcom of moving the salt Jose Mourinho meanwhile is often brought to task for trying to smuggle the long ball game back into English football his defence being his need to break the lines of banks of defenders and midfielders Jonathan Wilson is an erudite and detailed writer but never loses a sense of the grand narrative sweep and here he pulls apart the modern game traces the world history of tactics back from modern pioneers such as Rinus Michels and Valeriy Lobanovskyi the Swiss origins of Catenaccio and Herbert Chapman right back to beginning where chaos reigned Along the way he looks at the lives of great players and thinkers who shaped the game and probes why the English in particular have proved themselves unwilling to grapple with the abstract This is a modern classic of football writing to rank with David Winner's Brilliant Orange and Simon Kuper's Football Against the Enemy

The Newspaper Club Harry Franklin Harrington, Evaline Harrington, 1927 Congressional Record , The Collectors Club Philatelist , 1950 Vol for 1928 includes translations from Khol's Handbook Landscape of Fear Tony Magistrale, 1988 One of the very first books to take Stephen King seriously Landscape of Fear originally published in 1988 reveals the source of King's horror in the sociopolitical anxieties of the post Vietnam post Watergate era In this groundbreaking study Tony Magistrale shows how King's fiction transcends the escapism typical of its genre to tap into our deepest cultural fears that the government we have installed through the democratic process is not only corrupt but actively pursuing our destruction that our technologies have progressed to the point at which the individual has now become expendable and that our fundamental social institutions school marriage workplace and the church have beneath their veneers of respectability evolved into perverse manifestations of narcissism greed and violence Tracing King's moralist vision to the likes of Twain Hawthorne and Melville Landscape of Fear establishes the place of this popular writer within the grand tradition of American literature Like his literary forbears King gives us characters that have the capacity to make ethical choices in an imperfect often evil world Yet he inscribes that conflict within unmistakably modern settings From the industrial nightmare of Graveyard Shift to the breakdown of the domestic sphere in The Shining from the techno horrors of The Stand to the religious fanaticism and adolescent cruelty depicted in Carrie Magistrale charts the contours of King's fictional landscape in its first decade
