Where Good Ideas Come From Steven Johnson, 2010-10-05 A fascinating deep dive on innovation from the New York Times bestselling author of How We Got To Now and Unexpected Life The printing press the pencil the flush toilet the battery these are all great ideas But where do they come from What kind of environment breeds them What sparks the flash of brilliance How do we generate the breakthrough technologies that push forward our lives our society our culture Steven Johnson's answers are revelatory as he identifies the seven key patterns behind genuine innovation and traces them across time and disciplines From Darwin and Freud to the halls of Google and Apple Johnson investigates the innovation hubs throughout modern time and pulls out the approaches and commonalities that seem to appear at moments of originality

From Physics to Daily Life Beatrice Bressan, 2014-11-03 Beatrice Bressan brings together a number of outstanding examples of successful cross disciplinary technology transfer originating in fundamental physics research which dramatically impacted scientific progress in areas which changed modern society Many of them were developed at CERN a hotbed of fundamental inventions in particle physics This book deals with breakthrough developments being applied in the world of IT consumer electronics aviation and material sciences Additional sections of the book deal with knowledge management and technology transfer including their economic aspects While each chapter has been drafted by an expert in the field the editor has carefully edited the whole to ensure a coherent overall structure A must have for policy makers technology companies investors strategic planners in research and technology as well as attractive reading for the research community

Where Good Ideas Come from Steven Johnson, 2010 From a coral reef teeming with life to the instant success of YouTube the author explores what kind of environment fosters the development of good ideas identifying the seven key principles for generating great notions By the author of Everything Bad Is Good for You Talking Book Topics , 2014-03 Personnel Management Abstracts , 2000 Where Good Ideas Come From Rabih Hassan, 2019 Good ideas do not come from looking forward or back rather they come from looking left and right to what is adjacent to us Johnson builds on Stuart Kauffman's concept of the adjacent possible to reaffirm that tomorrow's great innovations are built from the stuff of today specifically from the things around us that can be combined into something new As a message innovation patterns steps should be simply followed together Go for a free walk while cultivating many hunches write immediately everything down as brain storming while keeping all your folders messy Search for valuable new things in spite of making mistakes and increase your outing mingling and coffeehouses and get help of many liquid networks Finally let others build on your ideas by borrowing ways and recycling old facts to reach invention Creativity is Contagious Pass it on A Seven Months' Run, Up, and Down, and Around the World James Brooks, 1872 Strategic Management in Japanese Companies T. Kono, 1992-03-16 This volume is a comprehensive view of strategic management in Japan The book begins with a general view of Japanese management style and considers how this style affects strategic management Specifically the Japanese approach to research and development is considered Another important aspect is the discussion of how the Japanese bring subsidiary companies in other countries into their strategic plans asking the question to what extent can Japanese management style be effective outside of Japan The aim of the Best of Long Range Planning series is to bring together the best articles on a particular topic published in the journal so that readers wishing to study a specific aspect of planning can find an authoritative and comprehensive view of the subject conveniently published in one volume This is a unique collection of articles from planners in some of Japan s major corporations
