Essig,2015-09-07 This book provides a whimsical tour of light sail thermodynamics where the sail craft is assumed to be experiencing arbitrarily infinite Lorentz factors Accordingly the background electromagnetic and other light speed sources are conjectured to be super aberrated The super aberrated sources may thus provide incident driving force or other power inputs that are enhanced by a so called super normal incidence Sails comprised of negative mass energy refraction indices are explored for which the sails would be pulled upon by incident radiations

Advances in Solar Sailing Malcolm Macdonald,2014-02-03 This book presents the best contributions of the the Third International Symposium on Solar Sailing Glasgow 11 13 June 2013 It is a rapid snap shot of the state of the art of solar sail technology in 2013 across the globe capturing flight programs technology development programs and new technology and application concepts The book contains contributions from all of the leading figures in the field including NASA JAXA ESA DLR as well as university and industry experts It therefore provides a unique reference point for the solar sail technology The book also includes key contributions from the prospective users of solar sail technology which will allow the technology to be considered by the user in this unique context
