Surrogates Of The State Ngos Development And Ujamaa In Tanzania:

Surrogates of the State Michael Jennings, 2008 Uses an instructive historical event to show how NGOs with good intentions are sometimes capable of supporting harmful government policies A fascinating picture of the players involved in misguided development program In Surrogates of the State Jennings explores the delicate relationship between development NGOs and the states they work in using his exhaustive and illuminating case study of Tanzania in the 1960s and 70s During that time Tanzania instituted the rural socialist Ujamaa program resulting in the forced resettlement of 6 million people to villages transforming the map of the country Rather than questioning this policy NGOs working in the area as typified by Oxfam became surrogates of the state helping to carry out the program Jennings argues that the NGO community was seduced by its own interpretations of what Ujamaa represented and was consequently blinded to the dark realities of resettlement Bound by ideological chains of their own forging organizations that in other contexts have criticized over mighty states and the use of overt force NGOs committed themselves fully to Tanzania and its development policy Through this study the book uncovers not just the story of development in Tanzania in this critical period but the history of the NGO itself And in doing so raises questions about the future direction of this institution which has become so prominent in international development

Political Thought and the Public Sphere in Tanzania Emma Hunter, 2015-04-27 This book is a study of the interplay of vernacular and global languages of politics during Africa's decolonization The Politics of Non-state Social Welfare Melani Cammett, Lauren M. MacLean, 2014-06-25 Across the world welfare states are under challenge or were never developed extensively in the first place while non state actors increasingly provide public goods and basic welfare In many parts of the Middle East and South Asia sectarian organizations and political parties supply basic services to ordinary people more extensively and effectively than governments In sub Saharan Africa families struggle to pay hospital fees and nongovernmental organizations NGOs launch welfare programs as states cut subsidies and social programs Likewise in parts of Latin America international and domestic NGOs and increasingly private firms are key suppliers of social welfare in both urban and rural communities Even in the United States where the welfare state is far more developed secular NGOs and faith based organizations are critical components of social safety nets Despite official entitlements to public welfare citizens in Russia face increasing out of pocket expenses as they are effectively compelled to seek social services through the private market In The Politics of Non State Social Welfare a multidisciplinary group of contributors use survey data analysis spatial analysis in depth interviews and ethnographic and archival research to explore the fundamental transformation of the relationship between states and citizens The book highlights the political consequences of the non state provision of social welfare including the ramifications for equitable and sustainable access to social services accountability for citizens and state capacity The authors do not assume that non state providers will surpass the performance of weak inefficient or sometimes corrupt states but instead offer a systematic analysis of a wide spectrum of non state actors in a variety of contexts around the world including sectarian political parties faith based organizations community based organizations family networks informal brokers and private firms Towards Pan-Africanism Stephen M. Magu,2023-03-11 This book traces the development and impact of regional economic communities RECs in Africa and addresses a timely question do REC members and the REC itself positively influence member states behaviors towards other members and more broadly regionally and continentally due to REC membership Changing member states behaviors is measured across three interconnected fundamental dimensions of societal systems proposed by Marshall and Elzinga Marshall in CSP's Global Report 2017 These are i the persistence of conflict or its counterpoint achieving peace ii fostering democratization and better governance and iii achieving socio economic development and as proposed by this research a fourth dimension iv being active participants in multilateralism Is membership in a REC ultimately beneficial to the member and other countries in the region While there are no clear and obvious at least discernible traditional benefits such as increase in trade perhaps because Africa's overall trade relative to the world is about 3 percent there are other non trade benefits e g decrease in conflict coercion to take certain actions towards peace and refrain from others coups and wars presenting in REC member states These in actions abilities coercions exclusions and cooperation instances are outlined and discussed in the book From Migrants to Refugees Jill Rosenthal,2023-10-06 In From Migrants to Refugees Jill Rosenthal tells the history of how Rwandan migrants in a Tanzanian border district became considered either citizens or refugees as nation state boundaries solidified in the wake of decolonization Outlining the process by which people who have long lived and circulated across the Rwanda Tanzania border came to have a national identity Rosenthal reveals humanitarian aid's central role in the ideological processes of decolonization and nation building From precolonial histories to the first Rwandan refugee camps during decolonization in the 1960s to the massive refugee camps in the 1990s Rosenthal highlights the way that this area became a testing ground for novel forms of transnational aid to refugees that had global implications As local and national actors refugees and international officials all attempted to control the lives and futures of refugee groups they contested the authority of the nation state and the international refugee regime This history Rosenthal demonstrates illuminates how tensions between state and international actors divided people who share a common history culture and language across national borders

Volunteer Economies Ruth Prince,Ruth Jane Prince,Hannah Brown,2016 Examines the increasing significance of the volunteer and volunteerism in African societies and their societal impact within precarious economies in a period of massive unemployment and faltering trajectories of social mobility Commerce with the Universe Gaurav Desai,2013-10-08 Reading the life narratives and literary texts of South Asians writing in and about East Africa Gaurav Desai builds a surprising alternative history of Africa's experience with slavery migration colonialism nationalism and globalization Consulting Afrasian texts that are literary and nonfictional political and private he broadens the scope of African and South Asian scholarship and inspires a more nuanced understanding of the Indian Ocean's fertile routes of exchange Desai shows how the Indian Ocean engendered a number of syncretic identities and shaped the medieval trade routes of the Islamicate empire the early independence movements galvanized in part by Gandhi's southern African experiences the invention of new ethnic nationalisms and the rise of plural multiethnic African nations Calling attention to lives and literatures long neglected by traditional scholars Desai introduces rich interdisciplinary ways of thinking not only about this specific region but also about the very nature of ethnic history and identity Traveling from the twelfth century to today he concludes with a look at contemporary Asian populations in East Africa and their struggle to decide how best to participate in the development and modernization of their postcolonial nations without sacrificing their political autonomy

Development

and Humanitarianism Deborah Eade,Tony Vaux,2007 Humanitarian intervention invariably rubs shoulders with politics albeit awkwardly and sometimes even with tragic results Tensions between them take many forms ranging from different assessments of the extent or even the existence of a crisis to claims that humanitarian assistance is not saving innocent lives but sustaining politico military forces or to the conclusion that the constraints upon them compel aid agencies to withdraw from the area of operation completely whether to ensure the safety of their own staff or because they believe that their integrity is unacceptably compromised by staying Development and Humanitarianism addresses these and other dilemmas that aid agencies face in interpreting the principles of humanitarianism in contexts where they risk being manipulated by political agendas The contributors have extensive experience as frontline aid workers agency policy makers academics and researchers and professional consultants around the world Like every book in the Development in Practice Readers series Development and Humanitarianism draws on the contents of the acclaimed international journal Development in Practice and includes an annotated resource list of recent publications relevant journals organizations and websites presenting a cutting edge guide to thinking and action Other Contributors Gretchen Alther Andrew Bonwick Julia Buckmaster Udan Fernando

Snakes in Paradise Hans Holmén,2010 Questions many key assumptions about the efficacy of NGOs and civil society in development Provides suggestions on how to improve NGO performance and how NGOs can better link with local African initiatives and agendas Beginning in the 1980s sub Saharan Africa witnessed a veritable explosion of NGOs and CSOs engaged in efforts to develop the subcontinent Often praised for their commitment flexibility close contact with grassroots movements and marginalized groups these organizations have become the darlings of donors and the UN system During the same period however rural Africa has sunk deeper into poverty The massive NGO engagement appears not to have made any meaningful progress Snakes in Paradise breaks through the generalizations and neat theories to discover why these efforts have failed Focusing especially on those local NGOs that are frequently overlooked by studies that cover the major international players Holmén uncovers a NGO landscape that is considerably more ambiguous than the popular development literature would have people believe     The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2009
