WHISTLE

It's bad enough that you don't have a signal on your mobile phone, but rescue when you run out of battery. When you're in distress and need to draw attention to yourself, having a whistle can help rescuers spot you.

CLOTHES

When it rains, it pours! When you get wet, make sure you have dry clothes to quickly change into. You can't afford to get sick and it keeps the chance the threat of disease spreading is extremely high.

FLASHLIGHT

When electricity is out, don't be left in the dark. A handy flashlight will be your best guide as you rummage through the darkness.

BOTTLED WATER

You can survive without food but not without water. It's the most important thing in your kit and should be the first thing you pack in your survival kit. Prepare at least 3 liters of water that's good for 3 days.

CELLPHONE

If you're stranded in the middle of nowhere and you need to call for help, your mobile phone will do. Just make sure your battery is always full. So hold off on playing Candy Crush for now, your ticket request can wait.

BATTERY-OPERATED RADIO

Keep up-to-date with what's going on in the news. Listen for updates and monitor events following a disaster. Ignoring evacuation instructions could lead to differences between life and death.

READY-TO-EAT FOOD

Food is vital for your survival. Just make sure you pack foods that will last at least 3-7 days. Packaged non-perishables or canned food and frozen food can last.

EMERGENCY MONEY

ATM's usually always make sure you have cash on hand just in case you'll need to buy emergency supplies.

IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS

When you need to travel on high waters, it's a good idea to keep your important documents in a waterproof container or resealable plastic bag.

FIRST AID KIT

Whatever the weather is, you should have a first aid kit with you at all times. Just remember, your best defense is a good offense.

Emergency Preparedness for You and Your Family in a Disaster Without Breaking The Bank. What if you could dramatically improve your chances of survival after a disaster such as an earthquake, tornado, fire, tsunami, hurricane, or flood? Don't you want to ensure that your children and other family members are safe even after the big one, earthquake or a hurricane? Wouldn't you like to have enough food and water to survive until help arrives? Trained by the experts at CERT, Civilian Emergency Response Team, to understand how to prepare for and survive disasters, and a leader in the area of Disaster Recovery, Richard Lowe lays out how to make you, your family, and your friends ready for any disaster, large or small. Based upon specialized training, interviews with experts, and personal experience, Lowe answers the big question: what is the secret to improving the odds of survival even after a big disaster? Do you want to be at the mercy of government agencies such as FEMA? Do you remember how long it took for them to respond to the Category 5 Hurricane Katrina in August 2005 or the Category 3 Hurricane Sandy in 2012? You don't have to be a prepper, worried about the day shit hits the fan, or spend a lot of money and time to get ready. In fact, with just a few simple steps, you can improve the odds of the survival of you and your family. Don't be one of those people who don't prepare for disasters and emergencies. In just a few short hours, it is possible to create a simple but effective plan to cover the most likely scenarios for disaster in your area. In this book, you'll learn. Emergency Preparedness and Survival Guide Duffy, 2018-03-16. Emergency Preparedness for Homeowner Communities Virginia Nicols, 2018-04-17. As a homeowner, you have a big investment in your house and property. You are determined to protect it and yourself from a disaster. Being prepared for emergencies is high on your list of priorities. But in a big emergency, how will the rest of your neighborhood fare? Will people around you know how to protect themselves and how to help their neighbors, including you? That's the situation we found ourselves in, and we weren't ready to accept it. So we gathered up our energy, our marketing skills, and our experience as trainers, and began what has turned out to be a 15 year experiment at improving emergency preparedness in our community This book details what we have learned so far about building a neighborhood emergency response team And our goal is to share it to help others build their own neighborhood team The book is one of a series each aimed at a different type of community apartment multi family mobilehome or business Of course every community is different And while we approach building a neighborhood team in three broadly defined steps we try to include many many ways to go about getting there The three steps are simple 1 Prepare yourself and your family 2 Get CERT Community Emergency Response Team training and build a core group around you 3 Build document and practice your neighborhood plan for credibility and consistency Sounds simple but there are many choices to be made along the way Some of the resources we ve included that we think will make your choices easier Using the advantages and watching out for the disadvantages of living in a particular size and type of community Lists of emergency supplies for survival kits evacuation kits pet survival kits etc Eight priorities for personal preparations MANY suggestions for holding meetings that will recruit new members and keep them involved We have been involved in hundreds of such meetings over the years List of emergency items your neighborhood team members will want and will appreciate 7 things about your location to investigate before you even start building the team Step by step to creating the organization chart and filling in the blanks with neighbors names Sample charts communications matrix meeting invitations Legal alerts and warnings Real life short stories of things we tried that didn t work so well Finally we admit to some of our frustrations with the process and we try to remind enthusiastic leaders about what to expect from volunteers There are no guarantees in this book Emergencies by their very definition are unexpected and unknown What we do know though is that whatever preparations you and your neighbors make and whatever planning you do gives you a better chance of keeping that emergency from becoming a disaster This book will help get you started
