Surviving Katrina Jessica Warner Pardee, 2014 Citizens Without a City Jan-Jonathan Bock, 2022-02 In 2009 after seismic tremors struck the Italian mountain town of L'Aquila survivors were subjected to a second earthquake invasive media attention and a relief effort that left them in a state of suspended citizenship as they were forcibly resettled and had to envision a new future In Citizens without a City Jan Jonathan Bock reveals how a disproportionate government response exacerbated survivors sense of crisis divided the local population and induced new types of political action Italy's disenfranchising emergency reaction relocated citizens to camps and sites across a ruined townscape without a plan for restoration or return Through grassroots politics arts and culture commemoration rituals architectural projects and legal avenues local people now sought to shape their hometown's recovery Bock combines an analysis of the catastrophe's impact with insights into post disaster civic life urban heritage the politics of mourning and community fragmentation A fascinating read for anyone interested in urban culture disaster and politics Citizens without a City illustrates how survivors battled to retain a sense of purpose and community after the L'Aquila earthquake Handbook of Disaster Research Havidán Rodríguez, William Donner, Joseph E. Trainor, 2017-11-16 This timely Handbook is based on the principle that disasters are social constructions and focuses on social science disaster research It provides an interdisciplinary approach to disasters with theoretical methodological and practical applications Attention is given to conceptual issues dealing with the concept disaster and to methodological issues relating to research on disasters These include Geographic Information Systems as a useful research tool and its implications for future research This seminal work is the first interdisciplinary collection of disaster research as it stands now while outlining how the field will continue to grow The 53 Jason S. Ulsperger, 2022-01-28 On August 9 1965 53 men died in the impoverished hills of rural Arkansas Their final breaths came in a government facility deep underground while their loved ones were at home expecting their return The incident at Launch Complex 373 4 remains the deadliest accident to occur in a U.S. nuclear facility The 53 Rituals Grief and a Titan II Missile Disaster analyzes the event It looks at causes but more importantly at how the mishap has affected daughters and sons for nearly six decades It gives new sociological insight on technological disasters and the sorrow following them The book also details how surviving family members managed themselves and each other while benefiting from the support of friends and strangers It describes how institutions blame the powerless and how powerful organizations generate distrust and secondary trauma With an analysis of the event and post disaster life their children share stories on what went wrong and how they keep moving forward Transformative Social Work Practice Erik M.P. Schott, Eugenia L. Weiss, 2015-08-24 Transformative Social Work Practice presents an innovative and integrative approach towards critically reflective practice with an interweaving of micro mezzo and macro applications to real world demands Authors Erik Schott and Eugenia L. Weiss explore issues commonly addressed by social workers including health mental health addictions schools and family and community violence while challenging assumptions and promoting ethically driven evidence based practice perspectives to advocate for social justice and reduce disparities The book is about redefining social work practice to meet the current and complex needs of diverse and vulnerable individuals families and communities in order to enhance their strengths in an era of unprecedented technological growth globalization and change New Books on Women and Feminism ,2015 describes abandonment and evacuation heroism and terror prejudice and generosity and displacement and rebuilding in the wake of the hurricane Families in Society ,2009 Displaced Lynn Weber,Lori Peek,2012-08-16 Hurricane Katrina forced the largest and most abrupt displacement in U S history About 1 5 million people evacuated from the Gulf Coast preceding Katrina s landfall New Orleans a city of 500 000 was nearly emptied of life after the hurricane and flooding Katrina survivors eventually scattered across all fifty states and tens of thousands still remain displaced Some are desperate to return to the Gulf Coast but cannot find the means Others have chosen to make their homes elsewhere Still others found a way to return home but were unable to stay due to the limited availability of social services educational opportunities health care options and affordable housing The contributors to Displaced have been following the lives of Katrina evacuees since 2005 In this illuminating book they offer the first comprehensive analysis of the experiences of the displaced Drawing on research in thirteen communities in seven states across the country the contributors describe the struggles that evacuees have faced in securing life sustaining resources and rebuilding their lives They also recount the impact that the displaced have had on communities that initially welcomed them and then later experienced Katrina fatigue as the ongoing needs of evacuees strained local resources Displaced reveals that Katrina took a particularly heavy toll on households headed by low income African American women who lost the support provided by local networks of family and friends It also shows the resilience and resourcefulness of Katrina evacuees who have built new networks and partnered with community organizations and religious institutions to create new lives in the diaspora Z Magazine ,2005 American Doctoral Dissertations ,2002 Displacement and Distress Among Low-Income African American Women After Hurricane Katrina Amanda M. Martinez,2018 The relationship between hurricane displacement experiences and mental health outcomes is currently under researched in disaster literature Examining the impacts of displacement outcomes on mental health can serve to inform policies and procedures on post disaster relocation and emergency management as well as identify needs and gaps in access to mental health services Often populations displaced by hurricanes are socially vulnerable and already experience baseline stressors Hurricane Katrina served as a powerful and recent example of a hurricane population displacement which had significant impacts on the mental health of low income women This study explores the relationship between displacement and mental health in low income African American women after Hurricane Katrina through a systematic review of 25 peer reviewed studies published from 2006 to 2016 Themes identified across the studies provide insights into how displacement outcomes and mental health are interrelated and suggest protective factors against mental distress such as social support and income Results indicated that African American women experienced elevated mental distress from the trauma of displacement exposure to Hurricane Katrina and coping with few psychosocial and economic resources This work identifies a clear need for mental health support as a fundamental component of disaster response and recovery Items & Issues ,2004 Dissertation Abstracts International ,2004 Extra! ,2006 G.K.
