Prefabricated Construction for Sustainability and Mass Customization ,2024-03-13 Building is a system of energy and environment which needs to accommodate diverse needs and demands at individual and societal levels Nearly 40% of global energy use derives from construction In fact a house consumes a significant amount of energy before and after occupancy and the associated CO2 emissions are contributing to climate change Prefabrication is a means to mass produce buildings or parts and components Thus in theory production costs can be reduced through economies of scale In the 1920s the significance of mass produced houses was widely propagated by Le Corbusier who saw standardization as fundamental to mass production Nonetheless today in response to growing global warming issues and the constant increase in energy prices the construction industry is becoming more responsive to the delivery of sustainable architecture than ever Within this context sustainability may embrace not only building economy but also the adequacy beyond the legitimacy in which the quality barely coincides with individuals various dynamic needs desires and expectations today In this respect mass produced prefabs alone fail to realize total sustainability In 1987 a paradoxical concept of mass customization was introduced by Stanley Davis Nonetheless the idea applied to housing dates back to the 1950s The essence of mass customizable architecture was speculated by Walter Gropius as he emphasized the need for standardizing and mass producing not only entire buildings but also their components The combination of standard building components which can be prefabricated results in mass producing various types of constructions through economies of scope where the quality can be defined by user choices of the components given in consideration of economic constraints and needs and demands This book is an initial attempt to integrate the two notions of sustainability and mass customization by reviewing the potential capacities of prefabricated construction Architectural Record ,2005 Curtain Wall Design Guide Manual American Architectural Manufacturers Association,1996 NEHRP Guidelines for the Seismic Rehabilitation of Buildings ,1997 Curtain Wall Design Guide Manual American Architectural Manufacturers Association,1979 ETHICS: Endorse Technologies for Heritage Innovation Alessandra Battisti,Serena Baiani,2024-01-04 This book outlines within the Italian national framework the current and potential paths oriented towards a new concept of Architectural Heritage through actions referring to Innovation and Experimentation and Protection and Transformation of the Architectural Heritage The development of the themes is articulated in two sessions dealing with the aspects related to the analysis and mapping of Architectural Heritage to face the context of the current Climate Crisis and the development of projects and experimentations oriented to the Green and Digital Transition The evolution of the concept of Heritage as conceived by the United Nations 2030 Agenda and in the Green Deal and New European Bauhaus aimed at constructing an inclusive and universally recognised definition to support

supranational objectives of sustainable human development gives rise to innovative strategies methodologies and technologies that in a direction of mitigation contrast and adaptation to climate change allow for the safeguard renewed management and a hope for valorisation of Heritage on a national scale In this direction the understanding of Architectural Heritage as a non renewable resource determines the need to activate design experimentation laboratories oriented towards regeneration articulated and complex which require in order to respond to the challenges posed by our era a sensitive and dialogic multidisciplinary vision of a holistic type In fact on the one hand it is necessary to redefine the usability and management methods of built heritage through the adoption of digital mobility energy ecological social green and blue infrastructures on the other hand it is necessary to introduce new qualitative and quantitative parameters and performance indicators adequate to verify the validity of the implemented strategies in a perspective of adaptation to climate change able to clarify contents processes and tools to contrast future risks The pursuit of these objectives refers to the innovation of training paths professionalising procedures administrative regulations and public policies that involve citizens and the private partnership towards a different project qualification and empowerment of stakeholders inhabitants professionals and clients The Technological Project makes it possible to activate different interventions aimed at acting in an integrated manner on assets context and communities according to an approach that reinterprets them on a common score as proposed by the European Next Generation programme in three priority aspects digitalisation and innovation environmental transition increased resilience and social sustainability of national economies In this scenario the interventions aimed at outlining sustainable development actions will have to place these concepts at the centre in a harmonious vision that starts from the recognition and enhancement of the Architectural Heritage recognising it as a fundamental asset of the territories

Sweet's Catalog File ,1985 Aluminum Curtain Wall Design Guide Manual ,1990 Structures Congress '91 Compact Papers ,1991 The Construction Specifier ,1989 Annual Book of ASTM Standards ASTM International,American Society for Testing and Materials,2004 AIA Journal American Institute of Architects,1979 Architecture ,1997 Annual Book of ASTM Standards American Society for Testing and Materials,1990 The Canadian Architect ,1998 The Skyscraper and the City Lynn S. Beedle,2007 Envelope Design for Buildings William Allen,1997 In this essential book Bill Allen imparts his experience gained over many years into the investigation and remedy of the numerous misfortunes which have afflicted buildings here and elsewhere He provides not only a very substantial new body of reliable back up for good modern design but also useful material for conservation and for surveyors who have to evaluate premises or who become specification writers This book is divided into two parts the first dealing with external and internal climates and the second with the ways in which the main categories of basements walls and roof systems operation to mediate between them The external climate is a character forming part of the book because our climate though technically temperate is powerfully intemperate with buildings The text of the book becomes markedly relevant to climates of the UK kind but designers can also see what to look for as risk factors in other climates and how to evaluate them the global nature of modern practice makes this important When it comes to the envelope itself the author works his way up from below ground to the roof After a chapter on basement design he begins with cavity structures these now fall into several sub categories and because they exploit the cavity in different ways he looks at what goes on in a cavity and then handles the sub categories around this Cavities now have two main functions the traditional one of being a rain barrier and the new one of being the repository for much increased insulation and it is the latter that has greatly changed behaviour patterns because it results in sharp increases of the temperature range for the outer cladding causing a lot of damage and by the same token stabilises the inner leaf opening the way for heating economies There have been some disastrous fires in cavities causing several deaths and this risk is dealt with too Curtain walls have a chapter to themselves and so do timber walls and so many problems have developed in applied finishes and in doors and windows that these too have their own chapters Finally roofs flat and pitched in two separate chapters Flat roofs have a bad press and people are still suspicious about them but we now know how to make them long lasting and handsome while pitched roofs have had a good press but sometimes don't deserve it The corrosion of metal finishes especially lead has bedevilled pitched roofs and given some terrible shocks on one roof lead that was heavy enough to give 100 years protection failed in 10 months following official recommendations The author is a well known consultant and is an authority in the field of oddities in buildings Book provides a good thinking base for design decisions about new buildings Vital for architects engineers surveyors and clients The Spec Guide ,1986
