Ward, Diane Raines Ward, 2000 For many years historian and screenwriter Geoffrey C Ward has been visiting the Indian jungles drawn by their beauty and the mystery and power of the great endangered predator that has always ruled them the tiger In this intensely personal book he combines history biography and first hand reporting to evoke the special appeal of India's forests and describes encounters with some of the tiger wallahs who have struggled against overwhelming odds to save the species from extinction The remarkable tiger wallahs covered here are Jim Corbett the great destroyer of man-eaters who became a still greater conservationist Billy Arjan Singh the Spartan farmer who despises hunters and hunting tried to return a tigress to the wild and all alone carved out a national park Fateh Singh Rathore the uninhibited Rajput who cheerfully risked his life defending the jungles in his charge and Valmik Thapar the son of New Delhi intellectuals who began as Fateh's disciple became an authority in his own right and now champions a new kind of conservation that may provide the tiger's only hope An epilogue especially written for this edition brings the story of the tiger and its champions up to date This evocative and well illustrated book about a magnificent animal and its ablest defenders one of the first to document the conflicts that plague efforts to save the species will interest conservationists ecologists and wildlife enthusiasts and appeal to a wide general readership Out of Bounds Alan G. Johnson, 2011-03-31 Out of Bounds focuses on the crucial role that conceptions of iconic colonial Indian spaces jungles cantonments cities hill stations bazaars clubs played in the literary and social production of British India Author Alan Johnson illuminates the geographical rhetorical and ideological underpinnings of such depictions and from this argues that these spaces operated as powerful motifs in the acculturation of Anglo India. He shows that the bicultural intrinsically ambivalent outlook of Anglo Indian writers is acutely sensitive to spatial motifs that insofar as these condition the idea of home and homelessness alternately support and subvert conventional colonial perspectives. Colonial spatial motifs not only informed European representations of India but also shaped important aesthetic notions of the period such as the sublime. This book also explains how and why Europeans rhetorical and visual depictions of the Indian subcontinent whether ostensibly administrative scientific or aesthetic constituted a primary means of memorializing Empire creating an idiom that postcolonial India continues to use in certain ways. Consequently Johnson examines specific motifs of Anglo Indian cultural remembrance such as the hunting memoir hill station life and the Mutiny all of which facilitated the mythic iconography of the Raj. He bases his work on the premise that spatiality the physical as well as social conceptualization of space is a vital component of the mythos of colonial life and that the study of spatiality is too often a subset of a focus on temporality. Johnson reads canonical and lesser known fiction memoirs and travelogues alongside colonial archival documents to identify shared spatial motifs and idioms that were common to the period. Although he discusses colonial works he focuses primarily on the writings of Anglo Indians such as Rudyard Kipling John Masters Jim Corbett and Flora Annie Steel to demonstrate how conventions of spatial identity were rhetorically maintained and continually compromised. All of these considerations amplify this book's focus on the porosity of boundaries in literatures of the colony and of the nation. Out of Bounds will be of interest to not only postcolonial literary scholars but also scholars and students in interdisciplinary nineteenth century studies South Asian cultural history cultural anthropology women's studies and sociology.
