THE SCRAMBLE FOR AFRICA AND THE BUILD UP TO A THIRD WORLD WAR; CHANGING POWER PATTERNS AT THE GLOBAL LEVEL AND LESSONS FOR AFRICA

Abstract

The aim of this journal was to analyze the current global war events and how they are set to change power patterns at the global level and its impact and lessons for Africa. The assumption of this study was that these reckless wars in the 21st century are set to reshape the global world order and lead to either African renaissance or recolonisation. The objectives of the study were, to account for the global hostilities, to project possible outcomes, and to come up with a solution to the identified challenges. The study relied on both primary and secondary data sets. The findings of the study were that, that the US Dollar will cease to be a global currency and that there is going to be a new alternative international payment system, the UNSC will die and the five permanent member states principle dies vindicating Mugabeism, that Russia will rely on nuclear threats for its survival, the trade war between China and USA has put China at the center of the USA's countervailing strategies, that part of the USA's countervailing strategy is targeting the BRICS (Brazil, Russia, India, China, and South Africa), that the USA and Russia despite their own differences are uncomfortable with the sudden surge of China as this threatens the historical racial hierarchy that has been dominated by whites, that China has been burdened with externally orchestrated convulsions in Hong Kong, arms sales to Taiwan, Tibet cessation led Daila Lama, alleged human rights against the minority Muslims in North-West China, and bellicose statements targeting China's intentions within its region, and that Afrophobia marks the end of regional African bodies especially SADC and revolutionary parties. The poor performance of the South African economy (29 percent unemployment rate) is a dangling sword in the hands of the white business sector. The study recommends that South Africa must kill the tribe as prescribed by Samora Machel who stated that for a nation-state to live the tribe must die, the USA must avoid the Hitler approach of creating so many wars, Africa must not jump to award resources to the foreigners, Africa must ringfence its resources from external exploitation, there will be more coups in Africa as the level of disgruntlement has risen alarmingly and Africa must not just 'hope' as a strategy for survival.

Environment and Planning ,1990 Late Modernity Margaret S. Archer,2014-03-10 This volume examines the reasons for intensified social change after 1980 a peaceful process of a magnitude that is historically unprecedented It examines the kinds of novelty that have come about through morphogenesis and the elements of stability that remain because of morphostasis It is argued that this pattern cannot be explained simply by acceleration Instead we must specify the generative mechanism s involved that underlie and unify ordinary people s experiences of different disjunctions in their lives The book discusses the umbrella concept of social morphogenesis and the possibility of transition to a Morphogenic Society It examines possible generative mechanisms accounting for the effects of social morphogenesis in transforming previous and much more stable practices Finally it seeks to answer the question of what is required in order to justify the claim that Morphogenic society can supersede modernity    Politics and Change in the Middle East Roy Andersen,Robert F. Nester,2010-11-15 Violence is as old as humanity Organized violence or war is as old as the first organized societies Throughout history most states were either preparing for engaging in or recovering from war Yet recently the threat or use of violence in international relations known as geopolitics has sharply diminished as nearly all states are at peace all or most of the time Nonetheless geopolitical conflicts instigated by rogue states militant ideologies transnational terrorist groups revolutionary movements or voracious ruthless economic interests continue to plague countries and regions around the world Although each geopolitical conflict has unique causes underlying them all is some volatile mix of the best and worst of human nature Many a war has been fought under the lofty banner of justice freedom and equality Many more however are provoked by the far darker motives of greed aggression fear vengeance hatred and ignorance Globalization War and Peace in the Twenty first Century explores humanity's most persistent and tragic problem by answering five crucial questions How is military power created and asserted How do international laws and organizations constrain war Why do nations go to war or stay at peace What continuities and changes characterize recent warfare What are weapons of mass destruction and what is the likelihood of them being used What are the source methods and results of terrorism and counterterrorism The emphasis is on recent headlines with case studies on the war against Al Qaeda the Iraq War the Israeli Palestinian conflict attempts by North Korea and Iran to become nuclear powers and other ongoing tragedies and threats All along the book reveals why geopolitics persists even though the ever thickening web of interdependent relations among nation states and peoples known as globalization sharply raises war's costs and reduces its benefits
