We Speak A Different Tongue Maverick Voices And Modernity 1890 1939:

We Speak a Different Tongue Yoonjoung Choi, Anthony Patterson, 2015 We Speak a Different Tongue Maverick Voices and Modernity 1890 1939 challenges the critical practice of privileging modernism. In so doing the volume makes a significant contribution to contemporary debates about re-visioning literary modernism, questioning its canon and challenging its aesthetic parameters. By utilizing the term 'oemodernity' rather than 'modernism', the 16 essays housed in this volume foreground the writers who have been marginalized by both their contemporary modernist writers and literary scholars while exploring the way in which these authors responded to the tensions, disruptions and challenges of modernity through the expansion of subject matter or through formal innovations that are not always consonant with those associated with modernist experimentation. At the same time the essays collected here incorporate alternative perspectives within modernist practice itself while examining the late modernist writers whose work may in some aspects resonate with earlier modernist experimentation but also may be decidedly distinct from it. Beginning with discussion on modernity and its relation to the late nineteenth and early twentieth century social and political context the volume covers a wide range of the authors from the well-known like Henry James, Joseph Conrad, Victoria Cross, H. G. Wells, George Orwell and D. H. Lawrence, and rebelling female mavericks May Sinclair, Charlotte Mew, Vita Sackville-West and Djuna Barnes to lesser known writers such as Rayner Heppenstall and Jean Toomer.

Literary and Cultural Alternatives to Modernism Kostas Boyiopoulos, Anthony Patterson, Mark Sandy, 2019-03-20 Our collection of essays re-evaluates the much critically contested term of Modernism that eventually came to be used of the dominant or paradigmatic strain of literary discourse in early twentieth century culture. Modernism as a category is one which is constantly challenged, hybridised and fractured by voices operating from inside and outside the boundaries it designates. These concerns are reflected by those figures addressed by our contributors chapters which include Rupert Brooke, G. K. Chesterton, E. M. Forster, Thomas Hardy, M. R. James, C. L. R. James, Vernon Lee, D. H. Lawrence, Richard La Galliene, Pamela Colman Smith, Arthur Symons and H. G. Wells. Alert to these disturbing voices or unsettling presences that vex accounts of an emergent Modernism in late nineteenth century and early twentieth century literary cultures predominately between 1890-1939 our volume questions traditional critical mappings, taxonomies and periodisations of this vital literary cultural moment. Our volume is equally sensitive to how the avant-garde felt for those living and writing within the period with a view to offering a renewed sense of the literary and cultural alternatives to Modernism Wyndham Lewis's Cultural Criticism and the Infrastructures of Patronage Nathan O'Donnell,2020-07-02 Wyndham Lewis was both a serious proponent and forthright critic of modernism His assault upon his contemporaries foreshadowed the twenty first century scholarly interest in the networks professions and coteries rather than the myths and heroics of modernism Lewis after a long period of neglect now sits increasingly at the heart of a revised field of modernist studies This book explores Lewis's cultural criticism as a valuable body of writing which posed questions that have yet to be answered about subsidy and the function of the artist about professionalism and ethics about who should pay for the arts and what the artist's obligations should be in return It is the first book length study of this body of critical writing through which Lewis articulated the central and most lasting of his critical preoccupations the question of how the work of the artist is to be valued and the artist to be paid in a professionalised society This book makes an important contribution to the long overdue reassessment of a complex contrarian figure spanning the disciplines of literature and the visual arts who asked pressing questions about the role and status of the artist and ultimately about the value economic civic political of the work of art British Avant-Garde Fiction of the 1960s Mitchell

Kaye Mitchell,2019-01-22 Explores the trailblazing work of the British literary avant garde of the 1960s This collection showcases the liveliness of British avant garde fiction of the 1960s which is diverse in its aesthetic practices and sometimes divided in its politics It brings together a selection of original research led essays on more than a dozen avant garde British writers of the 1960s revealing this to be a crucial and crucially overlooked period of British literary history Via detailed readings of authors such as Ann Quin B S Johnson Alexander Trocchi Maureen Duffy Alan Burns Christine Brooke Rose and many others the contributors reveal the diversity of material produced in this period and trace the complex relations of influence and indebtedness between the 60s avant garde earlier modernisms and later postmodern writing The volume shows that the 1960s is an even more vibrant period of literary experiment in Britain than might previously have been supposed and that the avant garde fiction produced then rewards our renewed attention to it Key Features Provides much needed critical analyses of the work of 60s avant garde writers Offers focused essays each presents one author in their cultural critical historical contexts by experts in the field Recuperates a lost decade in British literature and thus fills a vital gap in literary history between late modernism and early postmodernism Responds to burgeoning critical and popular interest in authors such as Christine Brooke Rose Ann Quin and B S Johnson and to a widespread interest in experimental and innovative writing more generally African American Literature Hans Ostrom,J.
