Conflict in its various manifestations continues to be a defining feature in many places throughout the world In an attempt to address such conflict various forms of a Truth and Reconciliation Commission TRC have been introduced to facilitate the transition from social conflict to a new dispensation The introduction and subsequent proceedings of TRCs in South Africa Canada and Norway are widely regarded as good examples of this approach Against this background a number of researchers from VID Specialized University and the University of the Western Cape had an exploratory meeting in Oslo in 2018 where the possibility for a joint research project under the broad theme of discourses on reconciliation was first discussed This led to two further research symposia in Cape Town and Troms in 2019 With the inclusion of specialists working on the Canadian Truth and Reconciliation process these meetings demonstrated common ground and a shared understanding of the issues at stake Moreover it pointed to the differences between the South African Canadian and Norwegian Commissions In comparing the South African Canadian and Norwegian experiences researchers identified that these countries were in fact at different stages of their respective truth and reconciliation processes This has prompted scholars to revisit and problematise these processes in relation to ongoing societal challenges In all cases it is quite apparent that reconciliation between individuals and groups remains a significant challenge

Improvising Reconciliation Ed Charlton, 2021-06-01 An Open Access edition of this book is available on the Liverpool University Press website and the OAPEN library Improvising Reconciliation is prompted by South Africa s enduring state of injustice It is both a lament for the promise since lost with which non racial democracy was inaugurated and more substantially a space within which to consider its possible renewal As such this study lobbies for an expanded approach to the country s formal transition from apartheid in order to grapple with reconciliation s ongoing potential within the contemporary imaginary It does not however presume to correct the contradictions that have done so much to corrupt the concept in recent decades Instead it upholds the language of reconciliation for strategic rather than essential reasons And while this study surveys some of the many serious critiques levelled at the country s Truth and Reconciliation Commission 1996 2001 these misgivings help situate the plural improvised approach to reconciliation that has arguably emerged from the margins of the cultural sphere in the years since Improvisation serves here as a separate way of both thinking and doing reconciliation It recalibrates the concept according to a series of deliberative agonistic and iterative rather than monumental interventions rendering reconciliation in terms that make failure a necessary condition for its future realisation

Fanon, Psychoanalysis, and Critical Decolonial Psychology Derek Hook, 2025-04-08 This groundbreaking book examines the psychological dimension of decolonial thought in reference to foundational texts Previously published as A Critical Psychology of the Postcolonial this new edition foregrounds the central role of Fanon's psychology. Highlighting the contributions of anti-colonial authors to the theorization of racism and oppression, the book demonstrates the pertinence of postcolonial and decolonial thought for critical social psychology and psychoanalysis via an investigation of a series of key topics. It explores the psychology of embodiment and racialization resistance strategies to oppression, extra-discursive facets of racism, the phobogenic and sexual dimensions of anti-Blackness and the roles of desire, fantasy and unconscious in ideologies of racism. The book makes a distinctive contribution through discussing the work of authors drawn from anti-apartheid psychoanalytic and critical social theory traditions including Steve Biko, J.M. Coetzee, Frantz Fanon, Julia Kristeva, Chabani Manganyi and Slavoj Žižek. This second edition continues to showcase a crucial set of critical resources for an anti-racist decolonial agenda and is fully updated with new discussion, references and images with a new chapter on desire, fantasy and apartheid ideology to strengthen the book's engagement with apartheid racism. This is an invaluable text not only for students of critical social psychology, psychoanalysis and sociology but for students enrolled in courses on race, racism or decolonial studies. It will also appeal to postgraduates, academics and anyone interested in psychoanalysis in relation to societal and political issues.

Arming Black Consciousness Toivo Tukongeni, Paul Wilson, Asheeke, 2023-06-08. Since 1994 as the ruling party in South Africa, the ANC have become synonymous with and indivisible from the fight against apartheid rule. This has left little space for competing accounts, visions and political projects to find their appropriate place in the historical narrative. In this innovative book, Toivo Asheeke moves beyond these well-trodden histories to tell the previously neglected story of the Black Consciousness Movement (BCM), a militant revolutionary nationalist wing of the anti-colonial struggle. Using archival sources from four countries and interviews with former veterans of the movement, Asheeke explores the BCM's engagement with guerrilla warfare, community feminism and Black Internationalism. Uncovering the personal and political histories of those who have previously received scant scholarly attention, Asheeke both illuminates the history of Africa's decolonization struggle and that of the wider Cold War.

\(Post\)apartheid Conditions D. Hook, 2013-08-27. Post-apartheid Conditions: Psychoanalysis and Social Formation advances a series of psychoanalytic perspectives on contemporary South Africa, exploring key psychosocial topics such as space, identity, social fantasy, the body, whiteness, memory and nostalgia.

Liberation and Development Leslie Anne Hadfield, 2016-05-01. Liberation and Development: Black Consciousness Community Programs in South Africa is an account of the community development programs of the Black Consciousness movement in South Africa. It covers the emergence of the movement's ideas and practices in the context of the late 1960s and early 1970s, then analyzes how activists refined their practices, mobilized resources and influenced people through their work. The book examines this history primarily through the Black Community Programs organization and its three major projects: the yearbook Black Review, the Zanempilo Community Health Center and the Njwaxa leatherwork factory. As opposed to better-known studies of antipolitical macroeconomic initiatives, this book shows that people from the so-called global South led development in innovative ways that promised to increase social and political participation It particularly explores the power that youth women and churches had in leading change in a hostile political environment With this new perspective on a major liberation movement Hadfield not only causes us to rethink aspects of African history but also offers lessons from the past for African societies still dealing with developmental challenges similar to those faced during apartheid
