We Are Iran The Persian Blogs:

We are Iran Nasrin Alavi, 2005 We Are Iran is a seamlessly edited multi voiced portrait of contemporary Iran translated from Farsi using that nation's weblogs as its primary source Iran has more web diarists than most countries and in cyberspace many Iranians find a freedom to express opinions that is not available to them in print Theirs is not the Iran of bearded ayatollahs and thuggish militias but a country that has educated itself to the point where it finds the Islamist fundamentalists antiquated and laughable where adult literacy and computer literacy is higher than in many European states and where 70 per cent of the population is under 30 and keen to usher in a new Iran Their voices infused with Persian lyricism are refreshing utterly at odds with the grim vision of the country peddled by Western governments They talk of their conflicts with the law the condition of women of repression and its subversion the police and media of singing and dancing of snatched romance and nostalgia for lost heroes Reading We Are Iran you have the sense that for more reasons than are obvious the worst thing that could possibly happen to Iran now would be a US attack We Are Iran Nasrin Alavi, 2005-11-08 In September 2001 a young Iranian journalist Hossein Derakhshan created one of the first weblogs in Farsi When he also devised a simple how to blog guide for Iranians it unleashed a torrent of hitherto unheard opinions There are now 64 000 blogs in Farsi and Nasrin Alavi has painstakingly reviewed them all weaving the most powerful and provocative into a striking picture of the flowering of dissent in Iran From one blogger's blasting of the Supreme Leader as a pimp to another's mourning for an identity crushed by the stifling protection of her male relatives this collection functions not only as an archive of Iranians thoughts on their country culture religion and the rest of the world but also as an alternative recent history of Iran Government crackdowns may soon still these voices in February 2005 one blogger was sentenced to 14 years in jail and We Are Iran may serve as the only serious record of their existence Young and Defiant in Tehran Shahram Khosravi, 2011-09-28 With more than half its population under twenty years old Iran is one of the world's most youthful nations The Iranian state characterizes its youth population in two ways as a homogeneous mass an army of twenty millions devoted to the Revolution and as alienated inauthentic Westernized consumers who constitute a threat to the society Much of the focus of the Islamic regime has been on ways to protect Iranian young people from moral hazards and to prevent them from providing a gateway for cultural invasion from the West Iranian authorities express their anxieties through campaigns that target the young generation and its lifestyle and have led to the criminalization of many of the behaviors that make up youth culture In this ethnography of contemporary youth culture in Iran's capital Shahram Khosravi examines how young Tehranis struggle for identity in the battle over the right to self expression Khosravi looks closely at the strictures confronting Iranian youth and the ways transnational cultural influences penetrate and flourish Focusing on gathering places such as shopping centers and coffee shops Khosravi examines the practices of everyday life through which young Tehranis demonstrate defiance against the official culture and parental dominance In addition to being sites of opposition Khosravi argues these alternative spaces serve as creative centers for expression and above all imagination His analysis reveals the transformative power these spaces have and how they enable young Iranians to develop their own culture as well as individual and generational identities The text is enriched by examples from literature and cinema and by vivid reports from the author's fieldwork

Politics of Rightful Killing Sima Shakhsari, 2020-01-17 In the early 2000s mainstream international news outlets celebrated the growth of Weblogistan the online and real life transnational network of Iranian bloggers and depicted it as a liberatory site that gave voice to Iranians As Sima Shakhsari argues in Politics of Rightful Killing the common assumptions of Weblogistan as a site of civil society consensus and resistance to state oppression belie its deep internal conflicts While Weblogistan was an effective venue for some Iranians to practice democracy it served as a valuable site for the United States to surveil bloggers and express anti Iranian sentiment and policies At the same time bloggers used the network to self police and enforce gender and sexuality norms based on Western liberal values in ways that unwittingly undermined Weblogistan's claims of democratic participation In this way Weblogistan became a site of cybergovernmentality where biopolitical security regimes disciplined and regulated populations Analyzing online and off line ethnography Shakhsari provides an account of digital citizenship that raises questions about the internet's relationship to political engagement militarism and democracy

Voices of New American Women Bahareh H. Lampert,2008 Blogosphere Michael Keren,2006-09-15 Examining the web logs or blogs of individuals from a variety of continents and cultures this book highlights the nature of blogosphere the virtual public arena of the early 21st century which alters the traditional world of media and politics It characterizes this new arena by the unique combination of a fresh voice of emancipation and a deep sense of melancholy and isolationism This journey through blogosphere highlights major forces operating in today s politics apathy toward political affairs resistance to globalization a quest for redemption through religious fundamentalism and terrorism Michael Keren compares bloggers to terrorists arguing that while the methods advocated by the two groups are obviously very different they both represent a similar trend one of diversion by respected but disenchanted citizens from the norms of civil society to a fantasy world in which the excessive use of words_or bombs_would make everybody listen South Asia Bulletin ,2008 New Media Albert Rolls,2006 This book looks at the explosion of music and video downloads and other phenomena including online communities instant messaging electronic research video games e books bloggers and more Advances and Innovations in Systems, Computing Sciences and Software Engineering Khaled Elleithy,2007-08-28 Advances and Innovations in Systems Computing Sciences and Software Engineering includes a set of rigorously reviewed world class manuscripts addressing and detailing state of the art research projects in the areas of Computing Sciences Software Engineering and Systems Advances and Innovations in Systems Computing Sciences and Software Engineering includes selected papers form the conference proceedings of the International Conference on Systems Computing Sciences and Software Engineering SCSS 2006 which was part of the International Joint Conferences on Computer Information and Systems Sciences and Engineering CISSE 2006 All aspects of the conference were managed on line not only the reviewing submissions and registration processes but also the actual conference Conference participants authors presenters and attendees only needed an internet connection and sound available on their computers in order to be able to contribute and participate in this international ground breaking conference The on line structure of this high quality event allowed academic professionals and industry participants to contribute work and attend world class technical presentations based on rigorously refereed submissions live without the need for investing significant travel funds or time out of the office Suffice to say that CISSE received submissions from more than 70 countries for whose researchers this opportunity presented a much more affordable dynamic and well planned event to attend and submit their work to versus a classic on the ground conference The CISSE conference audio room provided superb audio even over low speed internet connections the ability to display PowerPoint presentations and cross platform compatibility the conferencing software runs on Windows Mac and any other operating system that supports Java In addition the conferencing system allowed for an unlimited number of participants which in turn granted CISSE the opportunity to allow all participants to attend all presentations as opposed to limiting the number of available seats for each session
