Murphy, Gene R. Laczniak, Fiona Harris, 2016-12-13 Understanding and appreciating the ethical dilemmas associated with business is an important dimension of marketing strategy Increasingly matters of corporate social responsibility are part of marketing's domain Ethics in Marketing contains 20 cases that deal with a variety of ethical issues such as questionable selling practices, exploitative advertising, counterfeiting, product safety, apparent bribery, and channel conflict that companies face across the world. A hallmark of this book is its international dimension along with high profile case studies that represent situations in European, North American, Chinese, Indian, and South American companies. Well-known multinationals like Coca-Cola, Facebook, VISA, and Zara are featured. This second edition of Ethics in Marketing has been thoroughly updated and includes new international cases from globally recognized organizations on gift giving, sustainability, retail practices, multiculturalism, sweat shop labor, and sports sponsorship. This unique case book provides students with a global perspective on ethics in marketing and can be used in a free-standing course on marketing ethics or marketing and society or it can be used as a supplement for other marketing classes.

Critical Approaches to Heritage for Development

Charlotte Cross, John D. Giblin, 2022-12-15 This book investigates the relationship between heritage and development from the global visions articulated by UNESCO and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) to local activism, livelihood innovations, and political strategies employed in diverse countries of the Global South. In recent years, as culturally informed approaches to international development have become increasingly important, engaging with heritage has been seen as a way to draw on practices and meanings from the past to help build future development. This book gathers researchers and practitioners from across disciplines to address important themes such as health, the environment, sustainability, peace, security, tourism, and economic growth. In doing so, the book asks us to consider whose past and whose future is ultimately at stake in efforts to use heritage for development. Key topics explored include histories and legacies of colonialism and calls for decolonisation and related questions of expertise, ownership, and agency. Students, practitioners, and researchers from across the broad areas of history, heritage education, archaeology, geography, and development studies will find this book an invaluable guide to dynamic and contested understandings of heritage and development and the relationship between them.

Henrik Olesen, 2019 The artistic practice of Henrik Olesen (1967, Esbjerg, Denmark) explores with a conceptually rigorous approach the structures of power relations and systems of knowledge, revealing some of their inherent logics those which contribute to social and political regularisation. Olesen employs cheap everyday materials to make collages, posters, texts, sculptures, installations, and architectural interventions which critically examine contemporary culture and socially disseminated normalisations, thereby questioning quotidian conventions in family structures, the construction of identities and their historiography, the media, legal discourses, art history, and other sources.
