Warm air advection occurs where the wind flows across isotherms from higher pressure (closer to lower latitude) values. Thus, warm air is being transported across a cold front by the horizontal winds. Based on this fact alone, one would expect precipitation at that location to be rising, cold air advection occurs where the wind flows across the isotherms from lower (colder) values to higher (warmer) values. Thus, cold air is being transported by the wind to a warm location, producing falling temperatures.

Based on wind directions and the isotherm pattern on the Figure 2 map, determine the type of air advection (warm or cold) that would be occurring at each station.

3. Winds at station two are occurring at Station _____.

- ☐ A
- ☐ B
- ☐ C
- ☐ D

4. Could air advection occur occurring at Station _____.

- ☐ B
- ☐ C
- ☐ D

5. Generalizing from the map depiction of wind and temperature patterns associated with weather systems, what is the most likely weather expected at Station _____.

- ☐ warm
- ☐ cold

6. Meanwhile, what is the most likely weather at Station _____, an advection.

- ☐ warm
- ☐ cold

7. Areas to the east of Station would be expected to have _____ air advection.

- ☐ warm
- ☐ cold

8. And while you choose from that only; weather based on the model of a high, what is the most likely weather _____ air advection.

- ☐ warm
- ☐ cold

Nature-based Solutions for Resilient Ecosystems and Societies Shalini Dhyani, Anil Kumar Gupta, Madhav Karki, 2020-07-07 Over the past few decades the frequency and severity of natural and human induced disasters have increased across Asia. These disasters lead to substantial loss of life, livelihoods and community assets which not only threatens the pace of socio-economic development but also undo hard-earned gains. Extreme events and disasters such as floods, droughts, heat, fire, cyclones and tidal surges are known to be exacerbated by environmental changes including climate change, land use changes and natural resource degradation. Increasing climate variability and multi-dimensional vulnerabilities have severely affected the social, ecological and economic capacities of the people in the region who are economically speaking those with the least capacity to adapt. Climatic and other environmental hazards and anthropogenic risks coupled with weak and wavering capacities severely impact the ecosystems and Nature's Contributions to People (NCP) and thereby to human well-being. Long-term resilience building through disaster risk reduction and integrated adaptive climate planning therefore has become a key priority for scientists and policymakers alike. Nature-based Solutions (NbS) is a cost-effective approach that utilizes ecosystem and biodiversity services for disaster risk reduction and climate change adaptation while also providing a range of co-benefits like sustainable livelihoods and food, water and energy security. This book discusses the concept of Nature-based Solutions (NbS) both as a science and as art and elaborates on how it can be applied to develop healthy and resilient ecosystems locally, nationally, regionally and globally. The book covers illustrative methods and tools adopted for applying NbS in different countries. The authors discuss NbS applications and challenges, research trends and future insights that have wider regional and global relevance. The aspects covered include landscape restoration, ecosystem-based adaptation, ecosystem-based disaster risk reduction, ecological restoration, ecosystem-based protected areas management, green infrastructure development, nature-friendly infrastructure development in various ecosystem types, agro-climatic zones and watersheds. The book offers insights into understanding the sustainable development goals (SDGs) at the grass roots level and can help indigenous and local communities harness ecosystem services to help achieve them. It offers a unique essential resource for researchers, students, corporations, administrators and policymakers working in the fields of the environment, geography, development, policy, planning, the natural sciences, life sciences, agriculture, health, climate change and disaster studies.

Water-Related Natural Disasters in Mountainous Area, volume II Jia-wen Zhou,Jie Dou,Xiekang Wang,Xudong Fu,Qihua Ran,Biswajeet Pradhan,2024-03-13 In mountainous areas due to the unique geological and topographical conditions and along with the impact of global climate change extreme rainfall events often occur and induce natural disasters such as flash floods debris flows landslides dammed lakes and others These water related natural disasters WRNDs frequently occur around the world such as the July 29th 1998 debris flow and landslide dam at Capricorn Creek in Mount Meager Volcanic Complex southern Canada the flash flood of 20th August 2018 in Raganello Gorge southern Italy and the 2007 summer floods in the United Kingdom WRNDs are more serious in Southeast Asia particularly in Southwest China where many places suffer from such disasters in the flood season every year such as the May 20th 2012 flash flood debris flow among the hit area of Wenchuan earthquake the June 24th 2017 Xinmo Catastrophic landslide in Mao county and in 2018 the two sequential landslide dammed lake events at Jinsha River These WRNDs not only cause heavy casualties and property losses but also destroy the ecological environment These WRNDs are not only the concern of government managers and engineers but also deserve more in depth study from researchers Formation and evolution mechanisms of WRNDs are very complicated and influenced by several aspects such as geological and topographical conditions hydrometeorological conditions geomaterial properties rainfall history and flow condition and others Field and laboratory tests can help us to better understand the related mechanism behind the disasters Theoretical and empirical models modeling and numerical methods can provide more reasonable evaluation and forecasting results of WRNDs but a more in depth understanding is needed Furthermore for the risk control and hazard prevention and mitigation new equipment and technologies have been developed and have achieved some progress in recent years but the fast and effective emergency treatments for WRNDs need more attention
