Through The Mirror Reflections On The Films Of Andrei Tarkovsky:

Through the Mirror Gunnlaugur A. Jónsson, Þorkell Ágúst Óttarsson, 2006 Tarkovsky is one of the greatest film directors of all time and the most famous Soviet film maker since Eisenstein This volume on Tarkovsky spans everything from classical film theories to theological analyses via sociology and the history of the ANS synthesizer The Theological Power of

Film James Lorenz, 2024-06-21 This book explores the theological power of film and seeks to render a properly theological account of cinematic art It considers What theology and theological practice does cinematic art give rise to What are the perceptual and affective potentials of film for theology and what if anything is theological about the cinematic medium itself The author argues that film is a fundamentally embodied art form a haptic and somatic medium of perception cum expression This combined with the distinct temporal aesthetic of film invests cinema with profound theological potentials The chapters explore these potentials through theological cinematic analysis emphasising the themes of encounter embodiment time and contemplation as well as three intimately connected doctrines of Christian theology creation incarnation and eschatology Throughout the book the films and writings of the Russian director Andrei Tarkovsky emerge as a singular illustration of the theological power of film becoming a crucial resource for theological cinematic analysis Lars von Trier's Cinema

Rebecca Ver Straten-McSparran, 2021-11-11 This book offers a bold and dynamic examination of Lars von Trier's cinema by interweaving philosophy and theology with close attention to aesthetics through style and narrative It explores the prophetic voice of von Trier's films juxtaposing them with Ezekiel's prophecy and Ricoeur's symbols of evil myth and hermeneutics of revelation The films of Lars von Trier are categorized as extreme cinema inducing trauma and emotional rupture rarely paralleled while challenging audiences to respond in new ways This volume argues that the spiritual biblical content of the films holds a key to understanding von Trier's oeuvre of excess Spiritual conflict is the mechanism that unpacks the films notorious excess with explosive centrifugal force By confronting the spectator with spiritual conflict through evil von Trier's films truthfully and prophetically expose the spectator's complicity in personal and structural evil forcing self examination through theological themes analogous to the prophetic voice of the transgressive Hebrew prophet Ezekiel his prophecy and its form of delivery Placed in context with the prophetic voices of Dante Milton Dostoyevsky O'Connor and Tarkovsky this volume offers a theoretical framework beyond von Trier It will be of great interest to scholars in film studies film and philosophy film and theology The Messianic Now Arthur Bradley, Paul Fletcher, 2013-10-18 This collection explores the phenomenon of the messianic in contemporary philosophy religion and culture From the later Derrida's work on Marx and Benjamin to Agamben and Badiou's recent texts on St Paul it is becoming possible to detect a marked messianic turn in contemporary continental thought However despite the plethora of work in the field there has not been any sustained attempt to think through the larger philosophical theological and cultural implications of this phenomenon What then characterises our contemporary messianic moment Where does it come from And why speak of the messianic now In The

Messianic Now Philosophy Religion Culture a group of internationally known figures and rising stars within the fields of continental philosophy religious studies and cultural studies come together to consider what the messianic might mean at the beginning of the 21st century This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Cultural Research Religion in Contemporary European Cinema Costica Bradatan, Camil Ungureanu, 2014-02-18 The religious landscape in Europe is changing dramatically While the authority of institutional religion has weakened a growing number of people now desire individualized religious and spiritual experiences finding the self complacency of secularism unfulfilling The crisis of religion is itself a form of religious life A sense of complex subterranean interaction between religious heterodox secular and atheistic experiences has thus emerged which makes the phenomenon all the more fascinating to study and this is what Religion in Contemporary European Cinema does The book explores the mutual influences structural analogies shared dilemmas as well as the historical roots of such a post secular constellation as seen through the lens of European cinema Bringing together scholars from film theory and political science ethics and philosophy of religion philosophy of film and theology this volume casts new light on the relationship between the religious and secular experience after the death of the death of God Plotinus and the Moving Image, 2017-11-13 Plotinus and the Moving Image offers the first philosophical discussion on Plotinus philosophy and film It discusses Plotinian concepts like the One in a cinematic context and relates Plotinus theory of time as a transitory intelligible movement of the soul to Bergson's and Deleuze's time image Film is a unique medium for a rapprochement of our modern consciousness with the thought of Plotinus The Neoplatonic vestige is particularly worth exploring in the context of the newly emerging Cinema of Contemplation Plotinus search for the intelligible that can be grasped neither by sense perception nor by merely logical abstractions leads to a fluent way of seeing Parallels that had so far never been discussed are made plausible This book is a milestone in the philosophy of film Contributors are Cameron Barrows Thorsten Botz Bornstein Michelle Phillips Buchberger Steve Choe Stephen Clark Vincenzo Lomuscio Tony Partridge Daniel Regnier Giannis Stamatellos Enrico Terrone Sebastian F Moro Tornese and Panayiota Vassilopoulou Life, Life Arseny Tarkovsky, 2007 LIFE LIFE A book of poetry by Russian poet Arseny Tarkovsky translated by Virginia Rounding Includes many poems used in Arseny's son's films Andrei Tarkovsky With a bibliography of both Arseny and Andrei Tarkovsky and illustrations from Tarkovsky's movies FROM THE INTRODUCTION Arseny Aleksandrovich Tarkovsky was born in June 1907 in Elizavetgrad later named Kirovograd He studied at the Academy of Literature in Moscow from 1925 to 1929 and also worked in the editorial office of the journal Gudok He was well respected as a translator especially of the Oriental classics but was little known as a poet for most of his life being unable to get any of his own work published during the Stalinist era His poems did not begin to appear in book form until he was over fifty His son the film director Andrei Tarkovsky made extensive use of his father's in some of his films and certain of his diary entries indicate the esteem in which the poet was held in the Soviet Union towards the end of his life An entry written after Andrei had given a talk at the Moscow Physical Institute in 1980 for instance reproduces the following note from a member of the audience An enormous number of people in this hall admire Arseny Aleksandrovich Tarkovsky as a great Russian poet Please convey our respects to him One of the few recorded public appearances of Arseny Tarkovsky was at the funeral of Anna Akhmatova he was one of three writers deputed to accompany her coffin from Domodedovo to Leningrad and he read both at her funeral in Komarovo and at the first evening held in her memory in Moscow He died in 1989 and is now beginning to be recognised as one of the many significant Russian poets of the twentieth century From Ignatyev Forest The last leaves embers in total immolation Rise into the sky this whole forest Seethes with irritation just as we did That last year we lived together

Faith and Spirituality in Masters of World Cinema Kenneth Robert Morefield, 2008 Faith and Spirituality in Masters of World Cinema is a fascinating introduction to spiritual aspects in the works of some of the greatest filmmakers in the world like Bergman Dreyer and Tarkovsky Avant Garde director Pedro Costa and Hollywood's golden boy Guillermo del Toro It covers directors from around the world and shows diverse manifestations of spirituality in film everything from how camera movements can imply spirituality to specific religions like Islam and Christianity Faith and Spirituality in Masters of World Cinema is a welcome addition to a growing library on religion and film Thorkell Ottarson The essayists in Faith and Spirituality in Masters of World Cinema offer provocative studies of the often uneasy relationship that exists between religion and film faith and reason They never shy away from their critical burden challenging readers to delve deeply and think more forcefully about the ethics and values that shape our culture and our lives Faith and Spirituality in Masters of World Cinema dares us to reconsider what it means to be whole and holy across the great history of film It is a spiritual and critical journey of the highest magnitude Dr Kenneth Womack Chair of the English Department Penn State University at Altoona Not many works of art would withstand the rigorous examination of the kind in this collection but Kenneth Morefield and his contributors have chosen well They've chosen filmmakers whose work not only withstands but seems to grow under the bright light of careful consideration I'm not familiar with all of them which makes the collection a useful map to the currents that run below their surfaces but I also found new ways to appreciate Pedro Costa and the Dardenne brothers whose films I've admired even loved but never thought about in quite this way Reading the essays together I discovered that this group of filmmakers while distinct in their beliefs approaches and aesthetics are all striving to reawaken our senses and by capturing something concrete they're looking for something invisible That they've found so many ways to do this from Del Toro's physically rooted fantasy to Costa's material world proves that cinema may not be dead just yet even with the twentieth century in the rear view mirror Rob Davis chief film critic of Paste Magazine co-founder of Daily Plastic www.dailyplastic.com

Recent Releases Geert Hallbäck, Annika Hvithamar, 2008 The relationship between theology and film has always been a complicated one When film was invented at the end of the nineteenth century it quickly gained its place in popular culture far from the orthodoxies of the scholarly world and of the Church For the better part of the twentieth century popular cinema was considered off limits for serious studies of Bible and culture Recently however there has been a growing understanding of how the Bible is being used in popular culture not as a historical document or as an authoritative canon but as part of the cultural intertext Cinema is a vivid example of the role and impact of the Bible in contemporary society In this well theorized collection of essays the issue is treated from several angles Using the methodology of theology the question of the alleged escapism of popular cinema is explored Using the methodology of media studies the impact of the media on religious communication is analysed And using the methodology of religious studies the influence of the cinema in the creation of new religions religious behaviour and religious institutions is investigated In addition the book offers fruitful analyses of the cinematic use of biblical themes such as Eden salvation Mary Magdalene and Jesus as well as of the cinematic application of ethical themes such as truth telling personal growth suffering the accomplishment of good and the creating of meaning for human beings

Fantasy Cinema David Butler, 2009 Often dismissed as simple tales of sword and sorcery fantasy is one of the fundamental impulses in filmmaking a source of some of the most vivid and memorable films ever made that reaches far beyond the confines of a single genre As well as some of the major genres stylistic approaches and exponents of cinematic fantasy from Georges Melies Walt Disney and Andrei Tarkovsky to contemporary fantasists such as Terry Gilliam and Peter Jackson This volume focuses on fantasy's social function with case studies including The Thief of Baghdad 1924 Excalibur 1981 the Lord of the Rings trilogy 2001-03 and Bruce Almighty 2003 and interpretations Taking in the popular and the experimental subversive desires and reactionary dreams this book is an engaging introduction to one of the vital energies in cinema
