Times Alone Antonio Machado, 2012-01-01 Antonio Machado a school teacher and philosopher and one of Spain's foremost poets of the twentieth century writes of the mountains the skies the farms and the sentiments of his homeland clearly and without narcissism Just as before I'm interested in water held in but now water in the living rock of my chest Machado has vowed not to soar too much he wants to go down to the hells or stick to the ordinary Robert Bly writes in his introduction He brings to the ordinary to time to landscape and stony earth to bean fields and cities to events and dreams magical sound that conveys order penetrating sight and attention The poems written while we are awake are more original and more beautiful and sometimes more wild than those made from dreams Machado said In the newspapers before and during the Spanish Civil War he wrote of political and moral issues and in 1939 fled from Franco's army into the Pyrenees dying in exile a month later When in 1966 a bronze bust of Machado was to be unveiled in a town here he had taught school thousands of people came in pilgrimage only to find the Civil Guard with clubs and submachine guns blocking their way This selection of Machado's poetry beautifully translated by Bly begins with the Spanish master's first book Times Alone Passageways in the House and Other Poems 1903 and follows his work to the poems published after his death Poems from the Civil War written during 1936-1939

The Soul of Place Michael Jones, 2014-07-09 In The Soul of Place Michael Jones explores how our relationship with place aligns us with the underlying patterns of life He does so through stories that ask what is our experience of homecoming and how do we find our way there What is our pattern of belonging including our relationship with people and places that we hold sacred What are the conditions of regenerativity and craft that enable us to give birth to something new How can our stewardship of what is alive within and around us awaken the mythic imagination And how does this open a path for gathering together in a spirit of transformative celebration
