

Service Manual 020 3 - Chain Saw

This manual contains detailed descriptions of all repair work, identifying procedures for 020 3 chain saws.

You should make use of the illustrated parts list when repairing and repairing parts. It shows the standard positions of the individual components and assemblies. Different parts lists are given for each repair section where parts lists are required.

A "key" on the inside back cover identifies colors. Consult the "Color-coding Chart" when reading parts.

Refer to the "Technical Information" chapters for descriptions of various parts, their function, and standard dimensions of the individual parts. These must be used when repairing parts. If a part is not mentioned, it is not required.

The standard service tools mentioned in the descriptions are listed in the back section of this manual. Use the parts numbers to identify the tools in the "020 3, Service Tools" chapter. The standard tools and special tools may be obtained from STIHL.

Service manuals and accessories publications published by STIHL, engineering drawings (see "Technical Information" for other uses of drawings), and repair charts. They should not be discarded by old parts.

Always use original STIHL replacement parts. They can be identified by the STIHL part number. The STIHL logo and the STIHL parts symbol are the registered trade names of the parts.

Service tools required for major maintenance: Number of the service tools is indicated on the service tool chart (PT). These numbers are also given in the individual service tool chapters. See the "Technical Information" section for details.

These tools are required for minor repair: They consist of the special tools mentioned under "Repairing the approach section".
