Career Movies Jack Boozer, 2010-01-01 Achieving the American Dream became inextricably linked with career business success after World War II as an increasingly consumerist America learned to define the dream through possessions and status Not surprisingly Hollywood films in the postwar years reflected the country's preoccupation with work and career success offering both dramatic and comedic visions of the career quest and its effects on personal fulfillment family relations women's roles and the creation or destruction of just and caring communities In this book Jack Boozer argues that the career business film achieved such variety and prominence in the years between 1945 and 2001 that it should be considered a legitimate film genre Analyzing numerous well known films from the entire period he defines the genre as one in which a protagonist strives for career success that often proves to be either elusive despite hard work or unfulfilling despite material rewards and status Boozer also explores several distinct subgenres of the career movie the corporate executive films of the 1950s the career struggles of single married and or parenting women the entrepreneurial film as it is also embodied in texts about immigrants and racial and ethnic minorities and business oriented femmes fatales the explosion of promotionalism and the corporatization of employment and finally the blurring of work and private life in the brave new world of the televirtuality film

Relations and Networks in South African Indian Writing, 2018-05-15 Writers of Indian origin seldom appear in the South African literary landscape although the participation of Indian South Africans in the anti apartheid struggle was anything but insignificant The collective experiences of violence and the plea for reconciliation that punctuate the rhythms of post apartheid South Africa delineate a national script in which ethnic class and gender affiliations coalesce and patterns of connectedness between diverse communities are forged Relations and Networks in South African Indian Writing brings the experience of South African Indians to the fore demonstrating how their search for identity is an integral part of the national scene's project of connectedness By exploring how Indianness is articulated in the South African national script through the works of contemporary South African Indian writers such as Aziz Hassim Ahmed Essop Farida Karodia Achmat Dangor Shamim Sarif Ronnie Govender Rubendra Govender Neelan Govender Tholsi Mudaly Ashwin Singh and Imraan Coovadia along with the prison memoirists Dr Goonam and Fatima Meer the book offers a theoretical model of South South subjectivities that is deeply rooted in the Indian Ocean world and its cosmopolitanisms Relations and Networks demonstrates convincingly the permeability of identity that is the marker of the Indian Ocean space a space defined by relations and
