The Routledge Handbook of Media Use and Well-Being Leonard Reinecke, Mary Beth Oliver, 2016-06-23 The Routledge Handbook of Media Use and Well Being serves as the first international review of the current state of this fast developing area of research. The volume provides a multifaceted perspective on the beneficial as well as the detrimental effects of media exposure on psychological health and well being. As a first mover it will define the field of media use and well being and provide an essential resource for research and teaching in this area. The volume is structured along four central considerations. Processes presents concepts that provide a theoretical bridge between media use and well being such as psychological need satisfaction, recovery from stress and strain, self presentation and self enhancement or parasocial interactions with media characters providing a comprehensive understanding of the underlying processes that drive psychological health and well being through media. Moderators examines both risk factors that promote negative effects on well being and protective factors that foster positive media effects. Contexts bridges the gap between theory and real life by illustrating how media use can influence well being and satisfaction in very different life domains covering the full spectrum of everyday life by addressing the public, private and work spheres. Audiences takes a look at the influence of life phases and life situations on the interplay of media use and well being questioning whether various user groups differ with regard to the effects of media exposure. Bringing together the expertise of outstanding international scholars from multiple disciplines including communication, media psychology, social psychology, clinical psychology and media education this handbook sheds new light on the role of media in influencing and affecting emotions.

Intimacy and Developing Personal Relationships in the Virtual World Gopalan, Rejani Thudalikunnil, 2018-07-13 Online communication has exploded in the past decade with the development of social networking sites like Facebook as well as social media applications. As more people turn to the online world to connect with others they must learn how to develop and maintain personal relationships with very little or no in person interaction. Intimacy and Developing Personal Relationships in the Virtual World sheds light on the various issues that accompany online interactions.

The book examines activities that have gone from occurring in reality to taking place in the online world such as cyberbullying online social networking and online dating. The publication also highlights the negative effects of spending a lot of time online such as mental health issues, internet addiction and body image control. This book is a vital resource for psychiatrists, psychologists, clinicians, social workers, medical administrators, academicians, educators and graduate level students. Illuminating How Identities, Stereotypes and Inequalities Matter through Gender Studies D. Nicole Farris, Mary Ann Davis, D'Lane R. Compton, 2014-04-30. This collection highlights and extends contemporary women's and gender studies by presenting theoretical analyses and innovative research conceptualizations, applications and methodologies via a diverse variety of popular in the classroom topics such as changing masculinities, comedic dramatic portrayals of ethnicity and discrimination, stigma and differences within mainstream media gender stereotypes, intersections of gendered and sexual identities in social media and fundamental institutions. These topics emphasize relevant issues and nuances within popular culture identities and perceptions and social problems and illustrate the breadth of gender studies and its applications while the diverse methodologies like historical comparisons, ethnographic, demographic and statistical analyses demonstrate its epistemology. Each chapter remains solidly founded in gender theory while making significant innovative contributions to the overall field.

behavior which cannot solely be explained with a single influence factor Neither the homo economicus nor the homo sociologicus thus can explain their behavior on its own Therefore this thesis discusses methods to improve the current models in order to adopt behavioral changes through virtual environments A trade off between the most commonly models is given Afterwards the results of the analysis are compared to the statements of the interview partners These interviews indicate a strong personal influence from the environment on the role of a private person Additionally the behavior as an e athlete is also influenced by logical decisions which can be modeled through the homo economicus User's Motivation For Using Facebook Deo Farrugia,2015-04-24 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Computer Science General University of Derby course Computing and Information Technology language English abstract Over the last few years social network websites have become a global phenomenon and brought great social impact across the world Such happenings deserve to be studied and their many aspects investigated thoroughly The aim of this study was to explore the motives and preferences of users on Facebook The data was obtained through an online survey on 383 random participants The result confirmed that Facebook has become a powerful medium of communication Younger people between ages 14 to 21 are the users who spend more time on Facebook and like to chat with school friends while age 22 and up chat more with old friends and family members A sense of security is shown across all ages gender and education level as in the majority the participants declared that their profile can be only viewed by friends and that they have few unknown friends on Facebook
