The Parent-School Board Feuds Gerard Giordano, 2024-10-02 During the COVID 19 pandemic parents were able to observe their children in online classes. They were surprised by classroom discussions and assignments related to gender, race, ethnicity, and religion, along with the policies that were guiding curricula, tests, technology, athletics, discipline, safety, transportation, funding, and numerous other aspects of schools. Parents began giving their advice to their school boards but when they were ignored, they disrupted meetings, wrote editorials, created blogs, staged rallies, and lobbied state officials. They were hoping to attract media attention and acquire political power and were stunned by their success. The Parent School Board Feuds: Essential Steps by Parents to Improve Schools recounts parent school board feuding about controversial classroom topics such as gender and race, their disagreements about school policies including those affecting tests, technology, athletics, and discipline, and the impact that parents had during the pandemic and continue to have today.

Internet Besieged Dorothy Elizabeth Robling Denning, Peter J. Denning, 1998 Invasion of privacy and security on the Internet is increasing. Internet Besieged features interesting, alarming, original, and recently published writing about the vulnerability of the computer networks we use every day and timely recommendations for strengthening network security.

Thierauf, 1990-01-19 The book is divided into four parts and begins by offering a framework for developing expert systems in finance and accounting. In the second part, the author reviews the current state of development for programming languages in expert systems, the computer hardware necessary to run expert systems, and expert system shells useful in developing business expert systems. Part 3 presents an in-depth examination of the procedures used in developing expert systems while the final part focuses on typical applications of expert systems in finance and accounting
