and Tech Crisis Communication Nirit Weiss-Blatt,2021-03-24 The Techlash and Tech Crisis Communication provides an in depth analysis of the evolution of tech journalism The emerging tech backlash is a story of pendulum swings we are currently in tech dystopianism after a long period spent in tech utopianism Breaking Away Maurice E. Stucke,2022 Breaking Away sounds a warning call alerting readers that their privacy and autonomy concerns are indeed warranted and the remedies deserve far greater attention than they have received from our leading policymakers and experts to date Through the various prisms of economic theory market data policy and law the book offers a clear and accessible insight into how a few powerful firms Google Apple Facebook Meta and Amazon have used the same anticompetitive playbook and manipulated the current legal regime for their gain at our collective expense While much has been written about these four companies power far less has been said about addressing their risks In looking at the proposals to date however policymakers and scholars have not fully addressed three fundamental issues First will more competition necessarily promote our privacy and well being Second who owns the personal data and is that even the right question Third what are the policy implications if personal data is non rivalrous Breaking Away not only articulates the limitations of the current enforcement and regulatory approach but offers concrete proposals to promote competition without having to sacrifice our privacy This book explores how these platforms accumulated their power why the risks they pose are far greater than previously believed and why the tools need to be far more robust than what is being proposed Policymakers scholars and business owners managers and entrepreneurs seeking

Black Ops Advertising Mara Einstein, 2016-09-01 From Facebook to Talking Points Memo to the New York Times often what looks like fact based journalism is not. It's advertising. Not only are ads indistinguishable from reporting the Internet we rely on for news opinions and even impartial sales content is now the ultimate corporate tool. Reader beware content without a corporate sponsor lurking behind it is rare indeed. Black Ops Advertising dissects this rapid rise of sponsored content a strategy whereby advertisers have become publishers and publishers create advertising all under the guise of unbiased information. Covert selling mostly in the form of native advertising and content marketing has so blurred the lines between editorial content and marketing message that it is next to impossible to tell real news from paid endorsements. In the 21st century instead of telling us to buy buy BUY marketers engage with us so that we share share SHARE the ultimate subtle sell. Why should this concern us? Because personal data personal relationships and our very identities are being repackaged in pursuit of corporate profits. Because tracking and manipulation of data make likes and tweets and followers the currency of importance rather than scientific achievement or artistic talent or information the electorate needs to fully function in a democracy. And because we are being manipulated to spend time with technology to interact with friends to always be on even when it is to our physical and mental detriment
