Human Capital Gary S. Becker, 2009-05-15 Human Capital is Becker's classic study of how investment in an individual's education and training is similar to business investments in equipment Recipient of the 1992 Nobel Prize in Economic Science Gary S Becker is a pioneer of applying economic analysis to human behavior in such areas as discrimination marriage family relations and education Becker's research on human capital was considered by the Nobel committee to be his most noteworthy contribution to economics This expanded edition includes four new chapters covering recent ideas about human capital fertility and economic growth the division of labor economic considerations within the family and inequality in earnings Critics have charged that Mr Becker's style of thinking reduces humans to economic entities Nothing could be further from the truth Mr Becker gives people credit for having the power to reason and seek out their own best destiny Wall Street Journal
