Labyrinth of Hybridities Marc Maufort, 2010 Taking its cue from Eugene O'Neill's questioning of faithful realism voiced by Edmund Tyrone in Long Day's Journey into Night this book examines the distant legacy of the Irish American playwright in contemporary multiethnic drama in the U S It explores the labyrinth of formal devices through which African American Latina o First Nations and Asian American dramatists have unconsciously reinterpreted O'Neill's questioning of mimesis. In their works hybridizations of stage realism function as aesthetic celebrations of the spiritual potentialities of cultural in-betweenness. This volume provides detailed analyses of over forty plays authored by such key artists as August Wilson, Suzan-Lori Parks, José Rivera, Cherríe Moraga, Hanay Geigomah, Diane Glancy, David Henry Hwang, and Chay Yew to give only a few prominent examples. All in all Labyrinth of Hybridities invites its readers to reassess the cross-cultural patterns characterizing the history of twentieth-century American drama.

Speaking in Tongues Marvin Carlson, 2010-04-23 Speaking in Tongues presents a unique account of how language has been employed in the theatre not simply as a means of communication but also as a stylistic and formal device and for a number of cultural and political operations. The use of multiple languages in the contemporary theatre is in part a reflection of a more globalized culture but it also calls attention to how the mixing of language has always been an important part of the functioning of theatre. The book begins by investigating various levels of language: high and low style, prose and poetry, and the ways in which these have been used historically to mark social positions and relationships. It next considers some of the political and historical implications of dialogue theatre as well as theatre that literally employs several languages from classical Greek examples to the postmodern era. Carlson treats with special attention the theatre of the postcolonial world and especially the triangulation of the local language, the national language, and the colonial language, drawing on examples of theatre in the Caribbean, Africa, Australia, and New Zealand. Finally, Carlson considers the layering of languages in the theatre, such as the use of supertitles or simultaneous signing. Speaking in Tongues draws important social and political conclusions about the role of language in cultural power, making a vital contribution to the fields of theatre and performance. Marvin Carlson is Sidney E. Cohn Professor of Theatre and Comparative Literature, CUNY Graduate Center. He is author of Performance: A Critical Introduction, Theories of the Theatre: A Historical and Critical Survey from the Greeks to the Present, and The Haunted Stage: The Theatre as Memory Machine among many other books.

Performance Stephen Chinna, 2003 In his consideration of a wide range of 20th-century political theatre and performance practices in the West, Stephen Chinna contends that it is the provisional and contingent strategies of performance that set the model for the postmodern.
