Berta, 2023-03-17 Arranged Marriage The Politics of Tradition Resistance and Change shows how arranged marriage practices have been undergoing transformation as a result of global and other processes such as the revolution of digital technology democratization of transnational mobility or shifting significance of patriarchal power structures The ethnographically informed chapters not only highlight how the gendered and intergenerational politics of agency autonomy choice consent and intimacy work in the contexts of partner choice and management of marriage but also point out that arranged marriages are increasingly varied and they can be reshaped reinvented and reinterpreted flexibly in response to individual family religious class ethnic and other desires needs and constraints The authors convincingly demonstrate that a nuanced investigation of the reasons complex dynamics and consequences of arranged marriages offers a refreshing analytical lens that can significantly contribute to a deeper understanding of other phenomena such as globalization modernization and international migration as well as patriarchal value regimes intergenerational power imbalances and gendered subordination and vulnerability of women Trafficking in Women Forced Labour and Slavery-like Practices in

Shadows Liz Kelly, Yasmin Rehman, Hannana Siddiqui, 2016-04-15 In the UK the number of people who came from a minority ethnic group grew by 53 per cent between 1991 and 2001 from 3.0 million in 1991 to 4.6 million in 2001. Whilst much has been written about the impact of these demographic changes in relation to policy issues, black and minority women and children remain under researched. Recent publications have tended to focus on South Asian women, forced marriage and honour related violence. Moving in the Shadows brings together for the first time in a single volume an examination of violence against women and children within the diverse communities of the UK. Its strength lies in its gendered focus as well as its understanding of the need for an integrated approach to all forms of violence against women whilst foregrounding the experiences of minority women, the communities they are part of and the organizations which have advocated for their rights and given them voice. The chapters contained within this volume explore a set of core themes: the forms and contexts of violence, minority women experience the continuum of violence, the role of culture and faith in the control of women and girls, the types of intervention within multi cultural and social cohesion policies, the impacts of violence on British born and migrant women and girls and the intersection of race, class, gender and sexuality, highlighting issues of similarity and difference. Taken together they provide a valuable resource for scholars, students, activists, social workers and policy makers working in the field.

Hearings Before the Committee on the Judiciary, House of Representatives, Sixty-sixth Congress, First[-third] Session United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary, 1919 The Sierra Leone Special Court and its Legacy Charles Jalloh, 2014 The Special Court for Sierra Leone (SCSL) is the third modern international criminal tribunal supported by the United Nations and the first to be situated where the crimes were committed. This timely important and comprehensive book is the first to critically assess the impact and legacy of the SCSL for Africa and international criminal law. Contributors include leading scholars and respected practitioners with inside knowledge of the tribunal who analyze cutting edge and controversial issues with significant implications for international criminal law and transitional justice. These include joint criminal enterprise, forced marriage, enlisting and using child soldiers, attacks against United Nations peacekeepers, the tension between truth commissions and criminal trials in the first country to simultaneously have the two, and the questions of whether it is permissible under international law for states to unilaterally confer blanket amnesties to local perpetrators of universally condemned international crimes.
