Index Editing Across Media Ross F. Collins, 2013-02-18 Requirements for professional media editing have undergone enormous technological change Editors still edit copy But today they do much more Mass media editors must demonstrate skills from computerized pagination to social media monitoring from image manipulation to Search Engine Optimization The need for editing skills is reaching far beyond traditional journalism and into all areas of mass media from newspapers to strategic communication Public relations practitioners are expected to edit Even advertising creative professionals must edit

And journalists taking on new roles as social media editors need to understand editing at the speed of digital media This textbook aims to prepare university level students for these expanded editing roles in an age of convergence Thirteen authors representing many years of collective media experience examine both traditional editing roles and new editing needs While many mass media students will not become professional editors this textbook assumes nearly all will need competent editing knowledge to produce products of professional quality Editing the authors believe remains a bedrock skill for all students who hope to be successful in the mass media Instructors considering this book for use in a course may request an examination copy here

Museum and Gallery Publishing Sarah Hughes, 2019-06-20 Museum and Gallery Publishing examines the theory and practice of general and scholarly publishing associated with museum and art gallery collections Focusing on the production and reception of these texts the book explains the relevance of publishing to the cultural commercial and social contexts of collections and their institutions Combining theory with case studies from around the world Sarah Anne Hughes explores how why and to what effect museums and galleries publish books Covering a broad range of publishing formats and organisations including heritage sites libraries and temporary exhibitions the book argues that the production and consumption of printed media within the context of collecting institutions occupies a unique and privileged role in the creation and communication of knowledge Acknowledging that books offer functions beyond communication Hughes argues that this places books published by museums in a unique relationship to institutions with staff acting as producers and visitors as consumers The logistical and ethical dimensions of museum and gallery publishing are also examined in depth including consideration of issues such as production the impact of digital technologies funding and sponsorship marketing co publishing rights and curators and artists agency Focusing on an important but hitherto neglected topic Museum and Gallery Publishing is key reading for researchers in the fields of museum heritage art and publishing studies It will also be of interest to curators and other practitioners working in museums heritage and science centres and art galleries
