World Ariel Tan, Andrew Lim, Rachel Hau, 2019-05-13 This book is a collection of speeches presented at Singapore Perspectives 2019 by current players in international relations and leading academics and opinion shapers on how the post Cold War world order with emphasis on the relations between the United States and China will affect small states like Singapore and countries in Southeast Asia at local national and regional levels It features speeches by prominent personalities such as Singapore Minister for Foreign Affairs Dr Vivian Balakrishnan former Singapore Foreign Minister Mr George Yeo and former Indonesian Foreign Minister Dr Marty Natalegawa Each speaker presents a fresh perspective on important developments in the world today Changing Landscapes of Singapore Hamzah Muzaini, Choon-Piew Pow, Harvey Neo, Shirlena Huang, Noorashikin Abdul Rahman Abdul Rahman, Junjia Ye, Karen P.Y. Lai, T.C. Chang, Harng Luh Sin, Pui Leng Woo, Brendan Cheong, Andy Chong, Alvin Kok, Matthew Lam, Tu Guang

Tan, 2013-08-26 Changing Landscapes of Singapore illuminates both the social and the physical terrains of modern Singapore Geographers use the term landscape to refer to visible surfaces and to the spatial dimension of social relations Landscapes arise from particular historical circumstances and in turn help shape social arrangements and possible courses of future development The authors describe how the settings inhabited by various social groups in Singapore affect life experiences and explore the impact of broader regional and international forces on Singapore Written for non specialists the volume reflects fresh perspectives from the scholarship of Singaporean academics Their work is sensitive to historical and geographical trends in the region and also engages with broader theoretical themes Singapore Perspectives 2010 Tarn How Tan, 2010 Section I Home heart horizon Welcome remarks Ong Keng Yong Keynote address Lee Hsien Loong Section II One united people ch 1 One united people Pek Siok Lian ch 2 The third phase of Singapore's multiculturalism Daniel P S Goh ch 3 Why NEWater instead of SEWater difficult policies and unity for Singaporeans Leong Ching ch 4 Reasonable persons of goodwill personal experiences in navigating diversity Aaron Maniam Section III One gracious society ch 5 One gracious society Paulin Tay Straughan ch 6 In search of graciousness Terence Chong ch 7 Living graciously in Singapore Braema Mathiapparanam ch 8 Kiasu monkeys and chicken pies Gan Su lin Section IV One global city ch 9 One global city Annie Koh ch 10 Beyond economics for economic success Lee Kwok Cheong ch 11 The future of Singapore as a global city and its socio economic implications Nizam Idris Globalising Singapore One global city global production networks and the developmental state Henry Wai chung Yeung Section V Conclusion ch 13 Closing address Be open to all possibilities Ong Keng Yong ch 14 Closing remarks Tommy Koh Asianism and the Politics of Regional Consciousness in Singapore Leong Yew, 2013-11-20 Over the last two decades Singapore has undergone a substantial degree of Asianization Apart from participating in the Asian values debate of the 1990s re visioning itself as New Asia and a global Asian hub and establishing Asian identities for the commodities it consumes and produces Singapore has also repurposed its modernity cultures and ethos along similar regionalist precepts. However even in recent times Singapore continues to vacillate ambivalently between identifying with and differentiating itself from Asia. Responding to the challenges Singapore faces in coming to terms with its Asian identity this book examines the complex cultural, social and political underpinnings that have shaped Singapore's mainstream discourse on Asia. Indeed it argues that its legacy as a colonial port city, the exigencies of managing the post-independence nation state and the larger forces of imperialism and capitalism all contribute to its politics of Asianism. Taking a thoroughly interdisciplinary approach that spans history, cultural studies, postcolonialism and cultural geography, Leong Yew reveals how Asia has been used to narrate Singapore's beginnings, revalidate Singaporean ethnic culture and to consolidate its practices of consumption and commodification. This book will be welcomed by students and scholars working across a range of fields including Asian culture and society, Asian politics, cultural theory and postcolonial studies.

Securitising Singapore Syed Mohammed Ad'ha Aljunied, 2019-07-15. Aljunied examines how the Singaporean government developed a comprehensive state-society strategic relationship by securitising vital policy areas because of Singapore's vulnerability as a global city state. In the twenty-first century the Singaporean government has strategically renewed an existing form of authoritarian rule by militarising national security governance. The main objective is to widen and deepen state power. Senior military trained civilian political leaders and bureaucrats use military personnel command and control terminology and strategy of war to deal with non-traditional security challenges, leading to the state's further domination over civil liberty and civil society. Aljunied analyses the information and communication, health and climate environment sectors. The case studies highlight the way the Singaporean government has used varying forms of political engagement, surveillance and legislation to limit civil liberty and inhibit the development of civil society. This book is a valuable resource for researchers and students of Singapore Studies as well as for the readers of Security Studies with an interest in the global-local nexus in a small state context. It is a pioneering scholarly study on the national security framework and the use of non-traditional security discourse to strengthen state power and social stability at the expense of political liberalism.

Singapore Kim Inglis, 2013. In just a few short decades Singapore has transformed itself from a tiny island off the coast of mainland Asia into a global superpower in banking, IT education, biotech, transportation and many other fields. The fascinating story of how this tiny city state, which has no hinterland, no natural resources and a relatively small population, has achieved success is told in this book. Singapore's history as a British colonial port, its dynamic multi-ethnic population and its innovative governmental and social structures are a part of the story. But there are others as well. How Singapore became Singapore Robert Powell, 2000. The leading authority on tropical Asian architecture, Robert Powell examines 90 major projects in Singapore at the turn of the 21st century. These projects show dramatically how globalization has shaped the economy and skyline of the island city state. Singapore Architecture of a Global City presents the work of nearly 40 locally based practices and over 20 internationally renowned signature architects through full colour photographs and drawings, teamed with essays and commentary.
