Movie Roadshows Kim R. Holston, 2012-12-13 This work examines a film distribution system paralleling the rise of early features and persisting until 1972 when Man of La Mancha was the final roadshow to require reserved seating. Synonymous with Hollywood's star-studded premieres, roadshows were longer and cost more than regular features, making the experience similar to attending the legitimate theater. Roadshows often epic in subject matter, played selected theaters usually only in major urban centers until demand decreased. By the 1960s, they were musical overtures, intermissions, entre acte, and exit music, and souvenir programs for sale in the lobby. Throughout the text are recollections by people who attended roadshows, including actor John Kerr and actresses Barbara Eden and Ingrid Pitt. The focus is on roadshows released in the United States, but an appendix identifies international roadshows and films forecast but not released as roadshows. Included are plots, contemporary critical reaction, premiere dates, production background, and methods of promotion, i.e., the ballyhoo.

Box Office, 1958      The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window Lorraine Hansberry, 2012-02-22 From the award-winning author of A Raisin in the Sun comes one of the most electrifying classic masterpieces of the American theater: an unforgettable portrait of a man struggling with his individual fate in an age of racial and social injustice. Rich and warm and funny, beautifully written. Los Angeles Times. The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window along with A Raisin in the Sun are milestones in the American theater, remarkable not only for their historical value but for their continued ability to engage the imagination and the heart. It is drama of such clarity that one may return to it again and again and I expect to emerge as deeply moved and each time the more illumined. Miss Hansberry, I am convinced, doesn't know how to create a character who isn't gloriously diverse, illuminatingly contradictory, heart-breakingly alive. A personal odyssey of discovery, a confrontation with others in the process of which Brustein discovers himself. From the Foreword by John Braine. With an Introduction by Robert Nemiroff.      Special Regulations United States. Department of the Army, 1954      Foreign Commerce Weekly United States.
