Succeeding While Depressed Jesuis Laplume:

Succeeding While Depressed Jesuis Laplume, 2015-12-20 I have been severely depressed most of my life but managed to become known internationally in two different fields of system science I achieved that success partly because of the ways that I coped with my depression After studying then writing about who we really are and why we are here I have worked my way out of my depression I am more functional now than I ever was before As a result I have been able to face the impacts that my depression has had on me and on my family friends and others who were affected by both my depression and the choices that I made in trying to cope with it I believe that some of the things that I have learned in this process will help others who are either depressed themselves or know someone who is depressed and needs help getting out of that debilitating state One of the biggest problems about dealing with depression is the vast failure of the medical community to provide safe and effective support for the depressed Using drugs to deal with the symptoms is a bad approach for two reasons 1 the real need is for a cure not a treatment of symptoms and 2 the side effects of the drugs can be horrendous For a while I was taking three drugs two of which were to lessen the side effects of the primary drug chosen by my family doctor I was usually worse off using the drugs than I was when I was taking nothing We are spiritual beings having a human experience where this experience is beautifully set up to have us look for and find the problem in that experience then have us choose to find a solution for the problem and finally put that solution into practice My primary reason for being depressed was a spiritual one and no one treated that problem It was only when I realized that I was deeply troubled by the disconnect between who I was told that I was and who I am that I could get better When I discovered the truth as to who I was and why I was here the solution to my depression was available When I put that solution into practice the depression went away I used avoidance techniques to get away from properly dealing with my depression Working too many hours a week was my primary avoidance technique but I added way too many hours on hobbies to that first choice My personal especially family relationships suffered greatly and all of my four wives and many children paid for my avoidance techniques All of these choices were primarily subconscious I do not remember making any conscious choices in this area Even my experience with one good psychiatrist was cut short before true help was provided The shock treatments that I received helped some but I lost most of my ability to remember my childhood as well as my prior ability to visualize concepts and physical objects I can no longer visualize anything a problem in much of what I want to do these days I also developed ways of hiding the extent of my depression from family friends people at work and the medical community I became so good at this that few understood the depth of my depression At one point I not only had no hope that things could get better I had no hope that there could ever be hope in the future That was my lowest point but I did not bounce back mostly I just lay there numb I started writing to better understand who I was and why I was here and the solution to my problem arose from writing in the flow where I was co creating with the universe My message to those who are depressed from my own particular viewpoint is that there is hope but it will not have a medical component until that community gets its act together To the depressed and their friends and family I suggest that you see coping mechanisms as a problem not a solution Be as real as you can be and try to truly see what is really going on We were all destined to become great each in our own way Choose to see the universe as great just as it is but trust your inner voice to lead you to your own solution    The Athenaeum James Silk Buckingham,John Sterling, Frederick Denison Maurice, Henry Stebbing, Charles Wentworth Dilke, Thomas Kibble Hervey, William Hepworth Dixon, Norman Maccoll, Vernon Horace Rendall, John Middleton Murry, 1830    The Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature, Science, and Art ,1885    Eclectic Magazine of Foreign Literature ,1885    "The" Athenaeum ,1830    The Eclectic Magazine John Holmes Agnew, Walter Hilliard Bidwell, 1885    Eclectic Magazine John Holmes Agnew, Walter Hilliard Bidwell, 1885    American Illustrated Magazine ,1885    Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly Frank Leslie, 1885    The Philadelphia Album and Ladies' Literary Port Folio ,1831    Journal of United Labor Knights of Labor, 1893
